NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

ONE hundred and twenty-four quarts of strawberries were shipped from Jacksonville to New York yesterday. They are described as large and fine, and $5 a quart is the price that will be set upon them when a Gothamite proposes to buy. Less than four months hence a $5 bill will buy two bushels. Wait.

THE city of New York paid $1,800 as the legitimate cost of the election machinery by which Thomas F. Grady was elected Senator. Mr. Grady will receive $1,500 for his services. It would have been cheaper to let the Senate fill the vacancy, as is done in Electoral Colleges.

GEN. HARRISON'S journey to Washington will begin on the afternoon of February 25th. He will go via. the Pennsylvania railroad, by regular train, to which a private car is to be attached. He will arrive at Washington Monday evening, February 25th. This will give him a full week at the capital before the inauguration.

STILL the West Virginia Senatorial election hangs fire. Goff and Kenna each received 43 votes yesterday; 46 are needed to elect. One vote went to Fleming, Republican, and three to the Labor candidate. Nobody pretends to guess where these votes will finally be cast. If they go to Goff they will elect him.

PRIME MINISTER FLOQUET proposes to hold the Cabinet together, and if the Chamber of Deputies gives him a vote of confidence to-day on his plans for dealing with Boulangerism, the Republic will move along as usual. French statesmen who have studied the American system are making the discovery that a Republic has some rights as well as political adventurers.

A CAUCUS of Republican Senators to discuss the admission of the territories was held yesterday morning but adjourned without action. Enough was said, however, to show the Republican Senators opposed to the admission of New Mexico and in favor of the immediate admission of South Dakota, North Dakota, Washington and Montana. The Springer omnibus bill will not pass the Senate, and an extra session of Congress will be called.

THERE are 400 nominations by the President before the Senate awaiting confirmation. It really looks as though Mr. Cleveland was trying to organize Gen. Harrison's administration. Most of the nominations are in consequence of resignations with the hope of getting another four years' commission before the 4th of March. They are all going to be hung up together in an out-of-the-way corner till inauguration day.

THE Cabinet ministers already selected by Gen. Harrison, it is now generally conceded, are Blaine, state Department, Allison, Treasury, Alger, War, and Wanamaker, either Navy or Postoffice. Three places are left—the Interior, Justice, and either the Postoffice or Navy, of which New York still has a chance of getting one. Harrison is evidently anxious to complete his selections, but the claim of New York is still embarrassing him.

THE news comes from Indianapolis that the Democratic report of the indictment of Col. Dudley was a lie. An indictment would have been an absurdity and an outrage after the ruling of Judge Woods that no bribery had been committed. The vote to indict Dudley stood 4 to 11, though the jury had been packed with Democrats for the express purpose of finding a bill against him. No witness has yet been found who is willing to swear that he ever received the alleged letter from Dudley.

THE Cleary boodle case has been sent to Binghamton for trial. It is a fortunate selection because Broome county jurors believe in justice. The notorious Ruloff was convicted and hanged there after two or three counties had given him trials, and the fellow of the unpronouncable name who killed his New-York sweetheart in Elmira and left her body to freeze in the ice under the bridge also met his quietus in the "Parlor City." Cleary may as well prepare for a trip to Sing Sing unless District Attorney Fellows takes direction of the defense.

LOUIS ALTHEIMER of Arkansas, a neighbor of the murdered Clayton, visited Gen. Harrison yesterday. He read the news of the murder in the papers on arriving in Indianapolis. When he called on Harrison the conversation turned to Arkansas politics, and he told the President-elect of the murder. The comment of the latter was: "This is dreadful; I have heard of nothing so shocking since Garfield's assassination. And then he added and several times repeated the declaration: "This thing must be stopped." Those who know Gen. Harrison intimately think he will find a way to stop it.

WHILE the thirteenth district has elected a Democratic Senator, the fact that Sullivan county has cast a Republican majority in this unimportant contest should not be lost sight of. Sullivan not long ago was reckoned as one of the staunchest of Democratic counties. It gave Mr. Cleveland 275 majority in 1884, Gov. Hill 188 in 1885, Judge Peckham 208 in 1886, and Secretary Cook 187 in 1887. In November last it went over to the Republicans for the first time with a majority of 103 for Harrison and Morton, though Hill carried it again by 53. Orange is reliably Republican; it has not given a Democratic majority for the head of the ticket since 1882. The result on Tuesday last was an accident which cannot happen again.

SPEAK softly, all who are not pleased with the murder of young Clayton in Arkansas, and the vacation of his claim to a seat in Congress. Democratic papers are already denouncing public disapproval of the act as a waving of the bloody shirt. The Southern heart must not be wantonly fired, or its political methods condemned because they differ from those of the North. Clayton knew Democratic opinion of Republican candidates in his state, and its sharp and startling varieties of expression. Democratic opinion seems to agree that he was very imprudent, and imprudently challenged the fate that he has met. Democratic solidity in the South will never be disturbed after Republicans have learned how dangerous it is to run for office by a few such object lessons as the one given in Plummerville last Tuesday night.

GENERAL TELEGRAPH NEWS

The Gist of the News at Home and Abroad This Day by Telegraph and by Cable.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—It was reported this morning that the Broadway road had secured 700 men in Philadelphia who were to be placed on the cars to-day. This was expected to make serious trouble.

THE RESOLVES OF THE MEN.

The representatives of all the local assemblies met last night. The men were unanimous in their decision to continue the strike until they are recognized by the companies.

WHAT THE STRIKE COSTS.

There was no material change in the situation this forenoon. The two days' stoppage of the cars has cost the strikers $20,000 and the stockholders of the roads $50,000. To-day the Belt Line and the Broadway Line, which have not had a car on the road since the tie-up, made arrangements to run cars over their routes,

NO LAWLESSNESS LAST NIGHT.

Quietness reigned at all the east and west side stables during the night, but each stable was guarded by the police.

MEN ANXIOUS TO WORK.

Many applications for work were made at the Sixth-avenue stables this morning. The applicants were nearly all green hands. But few of the strikers have made applications for work so far. It was said that over 500 applicants had asked to be put to work.

WHAT TWO ROADS WILL DO.

The Eighth and Ninth-avenue Roads will await the result of efforts to run cars elsewhere before doing anything.

STRIKERS "FIGHTING DRUNK."

On the Belt Line the men threatened this morning to throw the first car into the River with all on board. Many of the men have become "fighting drunk."

POLICEMEN ON EACH CAR.

The first of the Twenty-Third-street cars was started at 7:15 o'clock. There were four policemen on each car.

The Sixth-avenue road started its cars at 8:24 o'clock with six policemen on each car. Inspector Williams, with 134 men and four Sergeants and four Roundsmen, were in charge of the depot.

The Fourth-avenue road begun its day's work at 8:30 o'clock. The Third-avenue line was running as usual.

TO GUARD AN ARSENAL.

On account of a rumor that an attack was being arranged by the strikers for the purpose of securing arms from the State Arsenal at Seventh-avenue and Thirty-fifth-street, a squad of 20 men from the Second Battery were detailed under Lieutenant Pasco to watch the Arsenal until the strike is ended. A detail of 10 men has also been placed in charge of the Armory of the Second Battery to protect the Gattling guns that are kept there.

ON THE SIXTH-AVENUE ROAD.

The first car on the Sixth-avenue road started quietly. It received very little attention from the strikers.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES MAINTAINED.

Inspector Steers and 150 men were at the Broadway depot ready to protect any cars that might be sent out. This company expected to run about a dozen cars this afternoon. The same reserve force was kept at police headquarters as yesterday and the same general police precautions were maintained. The Third-avenue cars were running so nicely that only one policeman was kept on each car.

AN EFFIGY SET ON FIRE.

A little excitement was caused by the suspension of an effigy from the fire-escape of a tenement house near the Broadway and Seventh-Avenue depot at 9 o'clock. After a crowd had collected it was set fire to. Inspector Steers had it taken down.

REGULAR TRIPS MADE.

The Twenty-Third-street line had its regular number of cars running at 10 o'clock.

MEN WHO MAY RETURN TO WORK.

It was rumored that the Eighth-avenue men would probably return to work. The Superintendent is willing to treat with them individually.

At 10 o'clock the first Broadway car was started. Inspector Steers scattered his men on both sides of Broadway as far down as Forty-Second-street but they had nothing to do but to watch the car as it proceeded down town. The strikers paid no attention to it.

BACKBONE OF STRIKE BROKEN.

Inspector Byrnes expresses the opinion that the backbone of the strike is broken. The managers of the companies declare they will make no concessions to the strikers. They have all the men they want, and will only take the best of the old hands back and under pledge of disassociation from the Unions.

STRIKERS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

A number of strikers were arraigned in the Police Courts this forenoon, charged with breaches of the peace. Three of them were sent to prison for a month, several were held for trial on serious charges and some were fined.

THE POLICE ACTIVE.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock five cars started on the Broadway line. The police kept the strikers governed so that they had no chance to interfere with the cars. Four policemen were on each car. The strikers made no demonstration beyond derisive yells at the drivers and conductors. The cars picked up about half-a-dozen passengers. The drivers and conductors were all green hands. After the successful trip of the cars the applicants for work at the office grew very numerous. All were taken on. These five cars will make three trips and will then be housed for the night.

A MOB TEARING UP RAILS.

About 2 o'clock 3,000 strikers assembled at the Belt line station. A large force of police was on hand. The mob will try to prevent a car being run by the Belt Line. The latest advices say they have begun to tear up the tracks in Thirty-Seventh-street, and the police intend to charge them.

ANOTHER MOB AT WORK.

Word has been received at Police Headquarters that a mob was gathering at the corner of Fifty-Ninth-street and Tenth-avenue, obstructing the tracks and threatening to tear them up.

THE STRIKE IN BROOKLYN.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 31.—The Atlantic Avenue Railroad Company decided to start its cars on the Fifth-avenue line to-day. Policemen were stationed along the entire route.

MOBS ON ATLANTIC AVENUE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The latest news from the strike in Brooklyn shows that several mobs gathered when the Atlantic-Avenue car went over the road this morning. The police charged into the crowd and cracked the heads of half-a-dozen disorderly men. A brick was thrown from a roof and went through the top of the car. Another crashed through the windows. William J. Richardson, son of "the Deacon" and the Secretary of the Company, rode on the front platform of the car surrounded by policemen. One of the horses became unruly and kicked Richardson on the leg. It is said the Company will make efforts to run two more cars to-day.

A CAR TAKEN OFF THE TRACK.

A car was taken over the Fifth-avenue road at 8:30 A. M., under the escort of 36 mounted policemen. The cavalcade moved at a steady trot all the way. Crowds of people lined the streets, but there was no interference.

A RIOT LOOKED FOR.

The police are maddened at the resistance of the mob, and hot fighting is expected this afternoon. The strikers say they will die on the rails before they will see another car go through. The streets were packed with people, and there was great excitement.

AT THE OLD RATES.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, Jan. 31.—The conductors of the Glens Falls, Sandy Hill and Fort Edward Street Railway, who struck Tuesday on account of a reduction in wages, have returned to work at the old rates. The Directors state that the reduction was unauthorized.

A STRIKE ENDED.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The strike of the Cuban cigar makers has ended in a victory for the workmen.

SAYS THE DEMAND IS FRIVOLOUS.

Magistrates Refuse to State Case Against O'Brien Suit for Libel.

By Cable to The Freeman.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The magistrates who tried William O'Brien refuse to state the case against him for the opinion of the Court of Exchequer on the ground that the demand is frivolous. Mr. Healy, counsel for O'Brien, will apply to the higher courts for an order compelling the magistrate to comply with his client's demand. O'Brien has been served with a writ in a suit brought by Magistrate Stokes, who claims £10,000 damages for alleged libelous statements in O'Brien's paper.

O'BRIEN FIGHTS HIS KEEPERS.

William O'Brien was, to-day, lodged in the Clonmel Jail to undergo the sentence of four months' imprisonment imposed on him. When ordered to remove his clothing and don the prison garb he refused, whereupon he was seized by warders and his clothing was forcibly removed. His beard was then shaved off. He made a desperate resistance and was exhausted by the struggle. His prostration was so severe that a priest was summoned.

The Action Taken by Holders of Shares in Courts in Paris.

By Cable to The Freeman.

At a request of a holder of Panama Canal lottery bonds the court appointed a sequestrator of the sums received by the Company from all future issues of shares.

IN REGARD TO ADMISSION OF STATES.

Action of the Republican Senators at a Caucus Held To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Republican Senators to-day in caucus adopted a resolution to insist upon the admission as states of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington. There was a lack of unanimity in regard to New-Mexico. It was urged, and the argument appeared to meet with the approval of a majority of the Senators present, that owing to peculiarities of the people of New-Mexico the Territory was not yet fitted for admission. The final decision of the caucus was that the Committee on Territories should frame a substitute for the House bill that should be so broad in policy and fair in terms that its rejection by the House would saddle that body with an unpleasant responsibility to the people of the West.

GERMANS ACTIVE IN SAMOAN AFFAIRS.

They Control Apia Police; Vessels Searched For Articles Contraband of War.

By Cable to The Freeman.

AUCKLAND, Jan. 31.—Advices from Samoa say the German officials have given notice that all vessels arriving there will be searched for articles contraband of war. They have suppressed the Samoan Times.

A passenger on the British steamer Wainui, who visited Mataafa's camp, was placed under arrest, but was subsequently released in compliance with a demand of the British Consul.

A proclamation has been issued placing the Apia police force under German control.

Mataafa's followers number 6,000. They are strongly entrenched, and other Samoans are rapidly joining them. Upon the arrival of the steamer Richmond it was boarded and searched by the Germans.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

One hundred and twenty-four quarts of strawberries were shipped from Jacksonville to New York yesterday. They are described as large and fine, and $5 a quart is the price that will be set upon them when a Gothamite proposes to buy. Less than four months hence a $5 bill will buy two bushels. Wait.

THE city of New York paid $1,800 as the legitimate cost of the election machinery by which Thomas F. Grady was elected Senator. Mr. Grady will receive $1,500 for his services. It would have been cheaper to let the Senate fill the vacancy, as is done in Electoral Colleges.

GEN. HARRISON'S journey to Washington will begin on the afternoon of February 25th. He will go via. the Pennsylvania railroad, by regular train, to which a private car is to be attached. He will arrive at Washington Monday evening, February 25th. This will give him a full week at the capital before the inauguration.

STILL the West Virginia Senatorial election hangs fire. Goff and Kenna each received 43 votes yesterday; 46 are needed to elect. One vote went to Fleming, Republican, and three to the Labor candidate. Nobody pretends to guess where these votes will finally be cast. If they go to Goff they will elect him.

PRIME MINISTER FLOQUET proposes to hold the Cabinet together, and if the Chamber of Deputies gives him a vote of confidence to-day on his plans for dealing with Boulangerism, the Republic will move along as usual. French statesmen who have studied the American system are making the discovery that a Republic has some rights as well as political adventurers.

A CAUCUS of Republican Senators to discuss the admission of the territories was held yesterday morning but adjourned without action. Enough was said, however, to show the Republican Senators opposed to the admission of New Mexico and in favor of the immediate admission of South Dakota, North Dakota, Washington and Montana. The Springer omnibus bill will not pass the Senate, and an extra session of Congress will be called.

THERE are 400 nominations by the President before the Senate awaiting confirmation. It really looks as though Mr. Cleveland was trying to organize Gen. Harrison's administration. Most of the nominations are in consequence of resignations with the hope of getting another four years' commission before the 4th of March. They are all going to be hung up together in an out-of-the-way corner till inauguration day.

THE Cabinet ministers already selected by Gen. Harrison, it is now generally conceded, are Blaine, state Department, Allison, Treasury, Alger, War, and Wanamaker, either Navy or Postoffice. Three places are left—the Interior, Justice, and either the Postoffice or Navy, of which New York still has a chance of getting one. Harrison is evidently anxious to complete his selections, but the claim of New York is still embarrassing him.

THE news comes from Indianapolis that the Democratic report of the indictment of Col. Dudley was a lie. An indictment would have been an absurdity and an outrage after the ruling of Judge Woods that no bribery had been committed. The vote to indict Dudley stood 4 to 11, though the jury had been packed with Democrats for the express purpose of finding a bill against him. No witness has yet been found who is willing to swear that he ever received the alleged letter from Dudley.

THE Cleary boodle case has been sent to Binghamton for trial. It is a fortunate selection because Broome county jurors believe in justice. The notorious Ruloff was convicted and hanged there after two or three counties had given him trials, and the fellow of the unpronouncable name who killed his New-York sweetheart in Elmira and left her body to freeze in the ice under the bridge also met his quietus in the "Parlor City." Cleary may as well prepare for a trip to Sing Sing unless District Attorney Fellows takes direction of the defense.

LOUIS ALTHEIMER of Arkansas, a neighbor of the murdered Clayton, visited Gen. Harrison yesterday. He read the news of the murder in the papers on arriving in Indianapolis. When he called on Harrison the conversation turned to Arkansas politics, and he told the President-elect of the murder. The comment of the latter was: "This is dreadful; I have heard of nothing so shocking since Garfield's assassination. And then he added and several times repeated the declaration: "This thing must be stopped." Those who know Gen. Harrison intimately think he will find a way to stop it.

WHILE the thirteenth district has elected a Democratic Senator, the fact that Sullivan county has cast a Republican majority in this unimportant contest should not be lost sight of. Sullivan not long ago was reckoned as one of the staunchest of Democratic counties. It gave Mr. Cleveland 275 majority in 1884, Gov. Hill 188 in 1885, Judge Peckham 208 in 1886, and Secretary Cook 187 in 1887. In November last it went over to the Republicans for the first time with a majority of 103 for Harrison and Morton, though Hill carried it again by 53. Orange is reliably Republican; it has not given a Democratic majority for the head of the ticket since 1882. The result on Tuesday last was an accident which cannot happen again.

SPEAK softly, all who are not pleased with the murder of young Clayton in Arkansas, and the vacation of his claim to a seat in Congress. Democratic papers are already denouncing public disapproval of the act as a waving of the bloody shirt. The Southern heart must not be wantonly fired, or its political methods condemned because they differ from those of the North. Clayton knew Democratic opinion of Republican candidates in his state, and its sharp and startling varieties of expression. Democratic opinion seems to agree that he was very imprudent, and impudently challenged the fate that he has met. Democratic solidity in the South will never be disturbed after Republicans have learned how dangerous it is to run for office by a few such object lessons as the one given in Plummerville last Tuesday night.

GENERAL TELEGRAPH NEWS

The Gist of the News at Home and Abroad This Day by Telegraph and by Cable.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—It was reported this morning that the Broadway road had secured 700 men in Philadelphia who were to be placed on the cars to-day. This was expected to make serious trouble.

THE RESOLVES OF THE MEN.

The representatives of all the local assemblies met last night. The men were unanimous in their decision to continue the strike until they are recognized by the companies,

WHAT THE STRIKE COSTS.

There was no material change in the situation this forenoon. The two days' stoppage of the cars has cost the strikers $20,000 and the stockholders of the roads $50,000. To-day the Belt Line and the Broadway Line, which have not had a car on the road since the tie-up, made arrangements to run cars over their routes,

NO LAWLESSNESS LAST NIGHT.

Quietness reigned at all the east and west side stables during the night, but each stable was guarded by the police.

MEN ANXIOUS TO WORK.

Many applications for work were made at the Sixth-avenue stables this morning. The applicants were nearly all green hands. But few of the strikers have made applications for work so far. It was said that over 500 applicants had asked to be put to work.

WHAT TWO ROADS WILL DO.

The Eighth and Ninth-avenue Roads will await the result of efforts to run cars elsewhere before doing anything.

STRIKERS "FIGHTING DRUNK."

On the Belt Line the men threatened this morning to throw the first car into the River with all on board. Many of the men have become "fighting drunk."

POLICEMEN ON EACH CAR.

The first of the Twenty-Third-street cars was started at 7:15 o'clock. There were four policemen on each car.

The Sixth-avenue road started its cars at 8:24 o'clock with six policemen on each car. Inspector Williams, with 134 men and four Sergeants and four Roundsmen, were in charge of the depot.

The Fourth-avenue road begun its day's work at 8:30 o'clock. The Third-avenue line was running as usual.

TO GUARD AN ARSENAL.

On account of a rumor that an attack was being arranged by the strikers for the purpose of securing arms from the State Arsenal at Seventh-avenue and Thirty-fifth-street, a squad of 20 men from the Second Battery were detailed under Lieutenant Pasco to watch the Arsenal until the strike is ended. A detail of 10 men has also been placed in charge of the Armory of the Second Battery to protect the Gattling guns that are kept there.

ON THE SIXTH-AVENUE ROAD.

The first car on the Sixth-avenue road started quietly. It received very little attention from the strikers.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES MAINTAINED.

Inspector Steers and 150 men were at the Broadway depot ready to protect any cars that might be sent out. This company expected to run about a dozen cars this afternoon. The same reserve force was kept at police headquarters as yesterday and the same general police precautions were maintained. The Third-avenue cars were running so nicely that only one policeman was kept on each car.

AN EFFIGY SET ON FIRE.

A little excitement was caused by the suspension of an effigy from the fire-escape of a tenement house near the Broadway and Seventh-Avenue depot at 9 o'clock. After a crowd had collected it was set fire to. Inspector Steers had it taken down.

REGULAR TRIPS MADE.

The Twenty-Third-street line had its regular number of cars running at 10 o'clock.

MEN WHO MAY RETURN TO WORK.

It was rumored that the Eighth-avenue men would probably return to work. The Superintendent is willing to treat with them individually.

At 10 o'clock the first Broadway car was started. Inspector Steers scattered his men on both sides of Broadway as far down as Forty-Second-street but they had nothing to do but to watch the car as it proceeded down town. The strikers paid no attention to it.

BACKBONE OF STRIKE BROKEN.

Inspector Byrnes expresses the opinion that the backbone of the strike is broken. The managers of the companies declare they will make no concessions to the strikers. They have all the men they want, and will only take the best of the old hands back and under pledge of disassociation from the Unions.

STRIKERS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

A number of strikers were arraigned in the Police Courts this forenoon, charged with breaches of the peace. Three of them were sent to prison for a month, several were held for trial on serious charges and some were fined.

THE POLICE ACTIVE.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock five cars started on the Broadway line. The police kept the strikers governed so that they had no chance to interfere with the cars. Four policemen were on each car. The strikers made no demonstration beyond derisive yells at the drivers and conductors. The cars picked up about half-a-dozen passengers. The drivers and conductors were all green hands. After the successful trip of the cars the applicants for work at the office grew very numerous. All were taken on. These five cars will make three trips and will then be housed for the night.

A MOB TEARING UP RAILS.

About 2 o'clock 3,000 strikers assembled at the Belt line station. A large force of police was on hand. The mob will try to prevent a car being run by the Belt Line. The latest advices say they have begun to tear up the tracks in Thirty-Seventh-street, and the police intend to charge them.

ANOTHER MOB AT WORK.

Word has been received at Police Headquarters that a mob was gathering at the corner of Fifty-Ninth-street and Tenth-avenue, obstructing the tracks and threatening to tear them up.

THE STRIKE IN BROOKLYN.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 31.—The Atlantic-Avenue Railroad Company decided to start its cars on the Fifth-avenue line to-day. Policemen were stationed along the entire route.

MOBS ON ATLANTIC-AVENUE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The latest news from the strike in Brooklyn shows that several mobs gathered when the Atlantic-Avenue car went over the road this morning. The police charged into the crowd and cracked the heads of half-a-dozen disorderly men. A brick was thrown from a roof and went through the top of the car. Another crashed through the windows. William J. Richardson, son of "the Deacon" and the Secretary of the Company, rode on the front platform of the car surrounded by policemen. One of the horses became unruly and kicked Richardson on the leg. It is said the Company will make efforts to run two more cars to-day.

A CAR TAKEN OFF THE TRACK.

A car was taken over the Fifth-avenue road at 8:30 A. M., under the escort of 36 mounted policemen. The cavalcade moved at a steady trot all the way. Crowds of people lined the streets, but there was no interference.

A RIOT LOOKED FOR.

The police are maddened at the resistance of the mob, and hot fighting is expected this afternoon. The strikers say they will die on the rails before they will see another car go through. The streets were packed with people, and there was great excitement.

AT THE OLD RATES.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, Jan. 31.—The conductors of the Glens Falls, Sandy Hill and Fort Edward Street Railway, who struck Tuesday on account of a reduction in wages, have returned to work at the old rates. The Directors state that the reduction was unauthorized.

A STRIKE ENDED.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The strike of the Cuban cigar makers has ended in a victory for the workmen.

SAYS THE DEMAND IS FRIVOLOUS.

Magistrates Refuse to State Case Against O'Brien Suit for Libel.

By Cable to The Freeman.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The magistrates who tried William O'Brien refuse to state the case against him for the opinion of the Court of Exchequer on the ground that the demand is frivolous. Mr. Healy, counsel for O'Brien, will apply to the higher courts for an order compelling the magistrate to comply with his client's demand. O'Brien has been served with a writ in a suit brought by Magistrate Stokes, who claims £10,000 damages for alleged libelous statements in O'Brien's paper.

O'BRIEN FIGHTS HIS KEEPERS.

William O'Brien was, to-day, lodged in the Clonmel Jail to undergo the sentence of four months' imprisonment imposed on him. When ordered to remove his clothing and don the prison garb he refused, whereupon he was seized by warders, and his clothing was forcibly removed. His beard was then shaved off. He made a desperate resistance and was exhausted by the struggle. His prostration was so severe that a priest was summoned.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Senate this afternoon took up the consular and diplomatic bill and adopted the amendments reported by the Committee on Foreign Affairs appropriating $600,000 for the protection of American interests in the Samoan Islands. The amendment raising to the rank of Ambassadors the Ministers to England, France, Germany and Russia was rejected, yeas 25; nays 26, and the bill was passed. The Senate then, on motion of Mr. Riddelberger, went into secret session on the British Extradition treaty.

WANT PANAMA CANAL CO. DISSOLVED.

The Action Taken by Holders of Shares in Courts in Paris.

By Cable to The Freeman.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Two holders of Panama Canal shares applied to the courts yesterday for a summons against DeLesseps. They demand the dissolution of the present Company and the appointment of a liquidor with power to make over to a new Company the assets of the old concern. The court postponed its decision until Saturday. At a request of a holder of Panama Canal lottery bonds the court appointed a sequestrator of the sums received by the Company from all future issues of shares.

THE PROCEEDINGS UP AT ALBANY.

Certain Bills Ordered to a Third Reading and Other Bills Introduced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Jan. 31.—In the Senate, to-day 10,000 copies of Julien T. Davis' compilation of the statutes and cases relating to taxation were ordered printed.

Bills ordered to third reading: Enz's, amending the act appropriating $5,000 for a swinging bridge across the Cayuga inlet at Ithaca; Kimball's, amending the act incorporating the St. Lawrence University; McNaughton's, amending the act incorporating the Deveaux College for orphans.

Bills introduced: By Robertson, providing for the printing of the regular number of reports and documents of the State Officers, Departments and Legislature and in addition 6,000 copies of the Report of the State Agricultural Society. Also reducing the number of reports of the Superintendent of Public Instruction from 15,000 to 14,700. By Laughlin, changing the methods of levying assessments for sewer improvements in Buffalo. IN REGARD TO ADMISSION OF STATES.

Action of the Republican Senators at a Caucus Held To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Republican Senators to-day in caucus adopted a resolution to insist upon the admission as states of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington. There was a lack of unanimity in regard to New-Mexico. It was urged, and the argument appeared to meet with the approval of a majority of the Senators present, that owing to peculiarities of the people of New-Mexico the Territory was not yet fitted for admission. The final decision of the caucus was that the Committee on Territories should frame a substitute for the House bill that should be so broad in policy and fair in terms that its rejection by the House would saddle that body with an unpleasant responsibility to the people of the West.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Indications for Friday: Rain, threatening weather, followed by warmer, southerly winds.

ONE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST SETTLED.

The contest in the Second Congressional district of Arkansas has been settled in favor of Hon. Clifton R. Breckinridge, the Democratic candidate and present member. It was settled in the old-fashioned way, and of course decisively. The Republican contestant was Hon. John M. Clayton, a gentleman long distinguished in the politics of the South and a brother of ex-Senator Powell Clayton. Mr. Clayton was visiting Plummerville, in the Republican county of Conway, for the purpose of taking depositions in relation to the stealing of the ballot box of the Plummerville precinct, which contained a Republican majority of 500 votes. Up to last Tuesday night about 100 depositions had been taken favorable to his case. He was stopping at a boarding house, and had been assigned for the night to a room containing several beds, to be occupied by himself, his notary, and some strangers. The notary was at work at a table near an open window, and Clayton, who had been pacing the room nervously, was in the act of sitting down when a loud report was heard. The light went out, and Clayton fell heavily to the floor. It was at first thought that the lamp had exploded and stunned him, but a commercial traveler who was in the room soon exclaimed that some one had fired through the window and killed him. A match was struck, and Clayton was found lying dead on the floor with the blood pouring from a wound in his neck. He had been killed by a load of buckshot, fifteen of which had lodged in his neck, while several passed through, tearing a hole in the throat large enough to admit a man's fist, breaking the neck and severing all the arteries from the brain to the heart. A pistol was found just outside of the window, but it was loaded full, and is not the weapon with which the murder was committed. A hunt for the assassin was unsuccessful. The Arkansas Legislature, however, is considering a bill to offer a reward of $5,000, and will probably pass it after he has had abundant time to get away.

Col. Breckinridge is in Washington, and it is not probable that he will be identified with the murder. He expressed great surprise when he received the news, which was promptly communicated to him in a telegram by a political friend in his district. He does not attempt, however, to ascribe the crime to any other motive than politics, and thinks that if the men who stole the Plummerville ballot box in November were Democrats, "they may have killed Clayton in order to prevent discovery and escape punishment." Breckinridge thought he was sure of the election anyway, as a majority of 846 was returned for him, while the Republican majority in Plummerville could not have exceeded 450 or 500. But Clayton had recently asserted his ability to prove that his majority would be 1,000 or more, and this fact, together with the knowledge that a Republican House would make the decision of the case, left the partisans of Breckinridge no alternative but murder.

When the Democratic party in several states supposed it had reduced the Republican majority in the House to a single vote, the papers of that party all over the country advised the Republicans against over-confidence, suggesting that the contingency of death would be likely to shift the preponderance. It will be observed that the work of death has begun, and that it counts to the benefit of the Democracy. Col. Breckinridge will have no contestant to dispute his rights. The suggestion is made that the House investigate the election in the district very thoroughly, and that if proof of the election of Breckinridge by fraud is obtained, his seat be declared vacant. But this would only necessitate another election, and probably put in peril another life. Republicans in the district will do well to curb their ambition to sit in Congress hereafter. The "Arkansas plan" overshadows the "Mississippi plan." By the former the work is postponed till after the election is over, when the removal of a single life suffices. The "Mississippi plan" was to fight Republicans away from the polls, and murder by wholesale was one of the frequent results.

THE EXCISE COMMISSION BILL.

The "high license" bill of the Excise Revision Commission was roughly handled before the Assembly Excise Committee yesterday. At the opening of the debate Mr. Gallup exhibited the following letter from Hon. Warner Miller:

FIFTH-AVENUE HOTEL, NEW-YORK, Jan. 25, 1889.
To the Hon. W. H. Gallup:

MY DEAR SIR: I have yours of yesterday. I consider the Excise bill now before the Legislature a great mistake. If our party consents to a rate of license lower than that of last winter, it will be defeated. We must keep our pledges made in the late campaign if we would hold the respect and support of the temperance people. WARNER MILLER.

Rev. James H. Ecob, a prominent pastor of Albany, denounced the bill and pointed out several defects. A very serious one was the provision that the warnings to liquor sellers not to sell to drunkards must be in writing. How was the poor washerwoman, who perhaps could not write at all, to serve these notices upon all the long rows of saloons which her husband visits in his drinking bouts? He condemned the provision which merely says that liquor shall not be sold on Sunday. The Law and Order League to which he belonged had failed to convict for Sunday selling because the liquor sellers went into court and swore that they sold cold tea. He wanted high license, but in the bill the minimum fees were far too low. The passage of the bill would check for ten years the healthful agitation now in progress in the state against liquor selling. His party, the Republican party, had given him a pledge that a high license bill would be passed.

Frank Moss, Secretary of the Republican Anti-Saloon League, pointed out that the bill permitted the sale of liquor all night. A section permitted the bar-tenders to sell at times when the owners were forbidden to do so. Another section clearly permitted the sale of liquor to minors. He thought that if Excise Boards were given discretion in granting licenses, they should also have discretion in revoking them. The bill destroyed many excellent features of the present excise law. Recorder Hessburg of Albany and W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie, candidate of the Prohibition party for State Treasurer in 1887, also spoke against the bill. Another hearing will be given next week. It is apparent that the bill cannot pass except by the aid of Democratic votes. Will Gov. Hill permit this, or will he sign it if it is thus passed?

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN GAIN IN CONGRESS.

In the first district of Indiana, at the November election, William F. Parrot was the Democratic and Frank B. Posey the Republican candidate. Parrot claimed the election by 20 majority, and Gov. Gray granted him the certificate. Posey claimed fraud, and had given notice of a contest, when Gen. Hovey, the Republican Representative in the fiftieth Congress, resigned to take the office of Governor. Parrott, fearing the effect of a contest in the House, proposed to Posey that they run against each other for the vacancy to be filled till the 4th of March, and to let the result settle the contest for the seat in the fifty-first Congress. This was agreed to, and the election took place yesterday. Full returns are not all in, but enough are received to assure the election of Posey by at least 500 majority; it may go to 1,000. If Parrott keeps his agreement the Republican majority in the next House already reaches 9. There is little doubt of Democratic frauds in November, for the district is Republican and gave Gen. Hovey 1,355 majority for Congress in 1888.

PUBLIC OPINION.

If the information of a London newspaper is trustworthy, Lord Sackville has secured another job. He is to go to Constantinople, succeeding the present embassador there. As popular elections have not yet been introduced in Turkey, this appointment reduces the danger of his lordship being Murchisonized a second time to a minimum.—Hartford Courant.

The Every Evening of Wilmington, Del., intimates that the "hostile Senate" is to blame for the Samoan difficulty. This will not do. The trouble is that if you put a tattered gown, an old shawl and a sun bonnet on Secretary Bayard he would look quite natural, and Bismarck knows it.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

The United States government, through the Commissioner of the Land Office, is offering an official map of the country for sale at cost. This would be a nice offer on the government's part were it not for the fact that the map of the country will have to be recast after the proposed new states are admitted. Appearances are that the government is trying to push the sale of a stock that will soon be worthless.—Troy Press.

Let's see—a year ago it was a condition not a theory that confronted us, and now that the Senate tariff bill offers a chance to reduce the surplus to the extent of $70,000,000 per annum, the Democratic party in the House of Representatives proposes to pigeon-hole the bill and let the "condition" take care of itself. That is a pretty meager result for such a tremendous "campaign of education."—Springfield Union.

The death of Owen Brown, son of old John Brown of Ossawattomie and of Harper's Ferry immortality, takes from earth the last survivor of those who participated in the old hero's wonderful assault upon the institution of slavery. Owen was 74 years old when he died, and this gives us a startling idea of the age of his venerable mother, who is still alive. The widow of John Brown is to-day one of the most interesting and pathetic characters on the Western Continent.—Ohio State Journal.

Hon. Amos J. Cummings likens the log rolling for the river and harbor bill in Congress to the scheme of Flavius Josephus, who used to pay from the public treasury of Galilee to the robbers such sum of money as he thought they would steal every year, and he thus kept peace in his province. Mr. Cummings is a statesman as well as a journalist.—Boston Herald.

It would be difficult to make Cleveland believe it, but the fact remains that his defeat was a blessing to him. Four years more and no one could have been blind to his littleness and incapacity; as it is there are a few whose faith in his greatness will probably never be shaken.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

DIDN'T WANT A GIRL.

Last summer my wife's health was all run down, and she wanted me to hire a girl to do the work. In a little while I found one I thought would suit her, when to my surprise she said I need not hire any one, as she felt much better, and thought another bottle of Sulphur Bitters would cure her. Donald Grey, 41 Worcester-Square, Boston.

THOSE WHOSE BUSINESS

Oblige them to travel, and who labor more or less under Chronic, Consumptive, or Bronchial Coughs, should not fail to carry with them a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam, taking it occasionally in small doses as they may feel the need. The cough will abate almost on the instant, and the breathing and expectoration become more easy and free. It soothes any sense of irritation that may exist, subdues inflammation or soreness in the lungs, throat and air passages, and prevents attacks which are always embarrassing, and may prove serious during an absence from home. No other preparation offered to the public possesses anything like the power of this one over these common and dangerous complaints. Dr. Kennedy, whose high standing in the profession is well known, strongly recommends it from the standpoint of a physician—a fact to which the people will attach the importance it demands.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Indications for Friday: Rain, threatening weather, followed by warmer, southerly winds.

ONE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST SETTLED.

The contest in the Second Congressional district of Arkansas has been settled in favor of Hon. Clifton R. Breckinridge, the Democratic candidate and present member. It was settled in the old-fashioned way, and of course decisively. The Republican contestant was Hon. John M. Clayton, a gentleman long distinguished in the politics of the South and a brother of ex-Senator Powell Clayton. Mr. Clayton was visiting Plummerville, in the Republican county of Conway, for the purpose of taking depositions in relation to the stealing of the ballot box of the Plummerville precinct, which contained a Republican majority of 500 votes. Up to last Tuesday night about 100 depositions had been taken favorable to his case. He was stopping at a boarding house, and had been assigned for the night to a room containing several beds, to be occupied by himself, his notary, and some strangers. The notary was at work at a table near an open window, and Clayton, who had been pacing the room nervously, was in the act of sitting down when a loud report was heard. The light went out, and Clayton fell heavily to the floor. It was at first thought that the lamp had exploded and stunned him, but a commercial traveler who was in the room soon exclaimed that some one had fired through the window and killed him. A match was struck, and Clayton was found lying dead on the floor with the blood pouring from a wound in his neck. He had been killed by a load of buckshot, fifteen of which had lodged in his neck, while several passed through, tearing a hole in the throat large enough to admit a man's fist, breaking the neck and severing all the arteries from the brain to the heart. A pistol was found just outside of the window, but it was loaded full, and is not the weapon with which the murder was committed. A hunt for the assassin was unsuccessful. The Arkansas Legislature, however, is considering a bill to offer a reward of $5,000, and will probably pass it after he has had abundant time to get away.

Col. Breckinridge is in Washington, and it is not probable that he will be identified with the murder. He expressed great surprise when he received the news, which was promptly communicated to him in a telegram by a political friend in his district. He does not attempt, however, to ascribe the crime to any other motive than politics, and thinks that if the men who stole the Plummerville ballot box in November were Democrats, "they may have killed Clayton in order to prevent discovery and escape punishment." Breckinridge thought he was sure of the election anyway, as a majority of 846 was returned for him, while the Republican majority in Plummerville could not have exceeded 450 or 500. But Clayton had recently asserted his ability to prove that his majority would be 1,000 or more, and this fact, together with the knowledge that a Republican House would make the decision of the case, left the partisans of Breckinridge no alternative but murder.

When the Democratic party in several states supposed it had reduced the Republican majority in the House to a single vote, the papers of that party all over the country advised the Republicans against over-confidence, suggesting that the contingency of death would be likely to shift the preponderance. It will be observed that the work of death has begun, and that it counts to the benefit of the Democracy. Col. Breckinridge will have no contestant to dispute his rights. The suggestion is made that the House investigate the election in the district very thoroughly, and that if proof of the election of Breckinridge by fraud is obtained, his seat be declared vacant. But this would only necessitate another election, and probably put in peril another life. Republicans in the district will do well to curb their ambition to sit in Congress hereafter. The "Arkansas plan" overshadows the "Mississippi plan." By the former the work is postponed till after the election is over, when the removal of a single life suffices. The "Mississippi plan" was to fight Republicans away from the polls, and murder by wholesale was one of the frequent results.

THE EXCISE COMMISSION BILL.

The "high license" bill of the Excise Revision Commission was roughly handled before the Assembly Excise Committee yesterday. At the opening of the debate Mr. Gallup exhibited the following letter from Hon. Warner Miller:

FIFTH-AVENUE HOTEL, NEW-YORK, Jan. 25, 1889.
To the Hon. W. H. Gallup:

MY DEAR SIR: I have yours of yesterday. I consider the Excise bill now before the Legislature, a great mistake. If our party consents to a rate of license lower than that of last winter, it will be defeated. We must keep our pledges made in the late campaign if we would hold the respect and support of the temperance people. WARNER MILLER.

Rev. James H. Ecob, a prominent pastor of Albany, denounced the bill and pointed out several defects. A very serious one was the provision that the warnings to liquor sellers not to sell to drunkards must be in writing. How was the poor washerwoman, who perhaps could not write at all, to serve these notices upon all the long rows of saloons which her husband visits in his drinking bouts? He condemned the provision which merely says that liquor shall not be sold on Sunday. The Law and Order League to which he belonged had failed to convict for Sunday selling because the liquor sellers went into court and swore that they sold cold tea. He wanted high license, but in the bill the minimum fees were far too low. The passage of the bill would check for ten years the healthful agitation now in progress in the state against liquor selling. His party, the Republican party, had given him a pledge that a high license bill would be passed.

Frank Moss, Secretary of the Republican Anti-Saloon League, pointed out that the bill permitted the sale of liquor all night. A section permitted the bar-tenders to sell at times when the owners were forbidden to do so. Another section clearly permitted the sale of liquor to minors. He thought that if Excise Boards were given discretion in granting licenses, they should also have discretion in revoking them. The bill destroyed many excellent features of the present excise law. Recorder Hessburg of Albany and W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie, candidate of the Prohibition party for State Treasurer in 1887, also spoke against the bill. Another hearing will be given next week. It is apparent that the bill cannot pass except by the aid of Democratic votes. Will Gov. Hill permit this, or will he sign it if it is thus passed?

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN GAIN IN CONGRESS.

In the first district of Indiana, at the November election, William F. Parrot was the Democratic and Frank B. Posey the Republican candidate. Parrot claimed the election by 20 majority, and Gov. Gray granted him the certificate. Posey claimed fraud, and had given notice of a contest, when Gen. Hovey, the Republican Representative in the fiftieth Congress, resigned to take the office of Governor. Parrott, fearing the effect of a contest in the House, proposed to Posey that they run against each other for the vacancy to be filled till the 4th of March, and to let the result settle the contest for the seat in the fifty-first Congress. This was agreed to, and the election took place yesterday. Full returns are not all in, but enough are received to assure the election of Posey by at least 500 majority; it may go to 1,000. If Parrott keeps his agreement the Republican majority in the next House already reaches 9. There is little doubt of Democratic frauds in November, for the district is Republican and gave Gen. Hovey 1,355 majority for Congress in 1886.

PUBLIC OPINION.

If the information of a London newspaper is trustworthy, Lord Sackville has secured another job. He is to go to Constantinople, succeeding the present embassador there. As popular elections have not yet been introduced in Turkey, this appointment reduces the danger of his lordship being Murchisonized a second time to a minimum.—Hartford Courant.

The Every Evening of Wilmington, Del., intimates that the "hostile Senate" is to blame for the Samoan difficulty. This will not do. The trouble is that if you put a tattered gown, an old shawl and a sun bonnet on Secretary Bayard he would look quite natural, and Bismarck knows it.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

The United States government, through the Commissioner of the Land Office, is offering an official map of the country for sale at cost. This would be a nice offer on the government's part were it not for the fact that the map of the country will have to be recast after the proposed new states are admitted. Appearances are that the government is trying to push the sale of a stock that will soon be worthless.—Troy Press.

Let's see—a year ago it was a condition not a theory that confronted us, and now that the Senate tariff bill offers a chance to reduce the surplus to the extent of $70,000,000 per annum, the Democratic party in the House of Representatives proposes to pigeon-hole the bill and let the "condition" take care of itself. That is a pretty meager result for such a tremendous "campaign of education."—Springfield Union.

The death of Owen Brown, son of old John Brown of Ossawattomie and of Harper's Ferry immortality, takes from earth the last survivor of those who participated in the old hero's wonderful assault upon the institution of slavery. Owen was 74 years old when he died, and this gives us a startling idea of the age of his venerable mother, who is still alive. The widow of John Brown is to-day one of the most interesting and pathetic characters on the Western Continent.—Ohio State Journal.

Hon. Amos J. Cummings likens the log rolling for the river and harbor bill in Congress to the scheme of Flavius Josephus, who used to pay from the public treasury of Galilee to the robbers such sum of money as he thought they would steal every year, and he thus kept peace in his province. Mr. Cummings is a statesman as well as a journalist.—Boston Herald.

It would be difficult to make Cleveland believe it, but the fact remains that his defeat was a blessing to him. Four years more and no one could have been blind to his littleness and incapacity; as it is there are a few whose faith in his greatness will probably never be shaken.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

DIDN'T WANT A GIRL.

Last summer my wife's health was all run down, and she wanted me to hire a girl to do the work. In a little while I found one I thought would suit her, when to my surprise she said I need not hire any one, as she felt much better, and thought another bottle of Sulphur Bitters would cure her. Donald Grey, 41 Worcester-Square, Boston.

THOSE WHOSE BUSINESS

Oblige them to travel, and who labor more or less under Chronic, Consumptive, or Bronchial Coughs, should not fail to carry with them a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam, taking it occasionally in small doses as they may feel the need. The cough will abate almost on the instant, and the breathing and expectoration become more easy and free. It soothes any sense of irritation that may exist, subdues inflammation or soreness in the lungs, throat and air passages, and prevents attacks which are always embarrassing, and may prove serious during an absence from home. No other preparation offered to the public possesses anything like the power of this one over these common and dangerous complaints. Dr. Kennedy, whose high standing in the profession is well known, strongly recommends it from the standpoint of a physician—a fact to which the people will attach the importance it demands.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by Frederick J. R. Clark.

The sale of Sulphur Bitters is so large here that I could not keep shop without them. E. S. Yates, Pharmacist, 99 Essex-street, Lawrence, Mass.

"This will last out a night in Russia when nights are longest there" he said, clapping his hand over his aching tooth. Salvation Oil was applied, and he was fast asleep in twenty seconds. Price 25 cents a bottle.

I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad, could hardly breathe. Some nights I could not sleep—had to walk the floor. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm and am using it freely, it is working a cure surely. I have advised several friends to use it, and with happy results in every case. It is the one medicine above all others to cure catarrh, and it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God I have found a remedy I can use with safety and that does all that is claimed for it. It is curing my deafness.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

A rare comfort to lame backs, weak kidneys and sore chests.—Hop Plasters.

WONDERFUL CURES.

The great essayist was a dyspeptic from his youth; but had he used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets he might have shaken off the incubus of indigestion, "like a dewdrop from a lion's mane," and there would have been more "sweetness and light" in his writings and his home. All druggists; 25 cents a vial.

THE EXCITEMENT NOT OVER.

The rush on the druggists still continues and daily scores of people call for a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. FOR WOMEN.

Are you wasting slowly but surely away from the effects of female weaknesses? Are you wan, pale, and nervous? Do you not sometimes feel that life is losing its attractions, and that you are gradually sinking into a decline which, if not taken in hand promptly, will end in an early death? Yes, you have felt all these things, and doubtless know that tens of thousands of once rosy-cheeked, plump, healthy girls and women go into their graves every year solely because these weaknesses were allowed to sap up the well springs of life till nature could no longer stand the strain. There is not a sensible maid, wife or mother who will not appreciate as more valuable than gold and precious stones Dr Fontaine's new remedy PALMETTO, which is safe, sure, and speedy in curing the worst case of female weakness.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, perserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—Rev. S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt Spofford, Texas

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick 26 March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY

LETTER FROM ELLENBURGH BY A FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS CITY.

A City which Expects to be the Capital of A New State—Gold Found on Building Lots on the Principal Streets.

E. M. Brigham, Jr., a former resident of this City, now of Ellenburgh, Kittitas County, Washington Territory, writes as follows under date of January 26, to THE FREEMAN:

SOME INTERESTING DATA.

"So many letters are received here asking about this portion of the country that I believe something in reference to Ellenburgh and vicinity will be of interest to readers of THE FREEMAN."

WHAT ONE MAN HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

"In 1875 John A. Shoudy and family left the then new city of Seattle, on Puget Sound, with a big pack train laded with merchandise, looking for a good location to trade with Indians, and the then few whites left here by the Hudson Bay Company. They left Seattle on a Wednesday morning, some time in July, 1875, and after 24 days' hard driving Mr. Shoudy arrived in the Kittitas Valley. He rode around for a week or more looking for a suitable place to build himself a log hut, and at last settled on what is now called 'Shoudy's Place,' a little hill not many feet from the Northern Pacific Railroad depot of today. Mr. Shoudy traded his stock about all out with Indians and whites, and then, in January of 1876, started back to Seattle to 'lay in' a new stock. Being well pleased with the valley and its farming lands he called together, while in Seattle, some of his old friends and made up a party of six families to come to Kittitas Valley and settle. In 1878 Mr. Shoudy had surveyed a town site just east of his trading post and sent to Puget Sound for families to come and locate homes for themselves. Twenty-eight people responded. He called his post "Ellen's Post," after his wife, and from that the people named their settlement Ellenburgh. At this time Ellenburgh had only 26 citizens, the rest of the people having settled on ranches around about the valley. To-day, after 11 years have rolled by, Ellenburgh and the Kittitas Valley have over 22,000 inhabitants and still more keep coming."

A REMARKABLE GROWTH.

"Ellenburgh has more than doubled itself in the last year on account of it being the nearest railroad city for the new country just being settled in what is called the 'Big Bend of the Columbia River' and the Conconnolly Mining Camp. Kittitas Valley is abundant in minerals, such as coal, iron, gold and copper, which are now being uncovered for the first time. Two weeks or more ago on the main street some workmen, when digging a trench to lay sewer pipe, came to a ledge of rocks and in that ledge was found small nuggets of A. No. 1 gold. It set the town wild and lots in blocks on both sides of the street where gold was found jumped from $75 per lot to $300 per lot of 120 feet deep by 60 feet front. All around through the valley can be found just such streaks of some mineral."

IDLERS NOT WANTED.

"But Ellenburgh itself is the City that when we are admitted into the Union of States will be the Capital city. I can look down Pearl-street at this moment and see hundreds hurrying to and fro. No idle men—everybody who wishes to work can work and idlers cannot stay. If they do not work for wages they are put on the chain gang to fix streets, thus keeping tramps and idlers out of the way. One year ago I first set foot in Ellenburgh to make it my home, and at that time out of 782 buildings there was but one brick building; to-day the place has 12 brick blocks costing in total $1,028,645.72.

WHAT BANKERS HAVE DONE.

"Benjamin E. Snipes & Co., private bankers, have just finished a 'Mineral Stone Bank Building' costing $52,000. B. E. Snipes & Co. are the richest bankers in the Territory, having a capital of $1,500,000. But I must stop for this time. I would like to hear from my old friends in Kingston and Ulster County who think of seeking the West for homes and a fortune and will give them every bit of information I can."

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

What a Number of Brainy Men Find to Write About in Two Magazines.

Opinions about articles in two magazines follow:

THE "FORUM" FOR FEBRUARY.

In the February number of the Forum an important enterprise is begun. W. S. Lilly, a distinguished English essayist and perhaps the ablest opponent of the application of the evolutionist doctrine to morals, undertakes to point out that civilization, especially Anglo-Saxon civilization, is suffering from a weakening of the moral idea; and in articles to follow he proposes to show specifically how the ethical standard has been lowered in art, in politics, in journalism and in other important lines of activity. These essays will constitute an inquiry into the moral force of our civilization as compared with the past. Judge Alfred Conkling Coxe, of the U. S. District Bench, proposes a simple plan for the relief of the U. S. Supreme Court—a plan that requires no important legislation, but is within the reach of the court itself. The statistics of the court's work and many interesting facts about its history and about the work of courts in general are incorporated in the article. Prof. Henry Wade Rogers, Dean of the Law Department of the University of Michigan, after narrating the history of International Extradition Treaties, points out the necessity of a new treaty with Great Britian, the present one being but a legal encouragement to theft. Other subjects of political importance discussed in this number are "Obstacles to Annexation with Canada," by the Marquis of Lorne, who, in a tone exceedingly friendly to the United States, points out what he regards as the practical disadvantages to both countries of political annexation; and "Shall Negro Majorities Rule?" by Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who tells why he regards the negro problem as a race problem pure and simple, which legislation cannot change, and the future of which is surrounded by many dangers. Edward Atkinson, dealing with several "Reforms that do not Reform," shows with great fullness of illustration why he thinks the Henry George land-tax theory would cause a monopoly of land. This article contains interesting, sharp criticisms of many economic theories, and shows the instability of the investments and enterprises that are supposed to be the most stable. The Rev. C. M. Morse, who shows a leaning towards the George doctrine, explains how the churches may regain the sympathy of the working classes. His narrative of the change that the rise of an aristocracy of wealth has wrought in the churches is interesting.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Everything. "Sardines in olive oil" sell readily as disguised Eastport herring in cottonseed oil. "Ocean trout" and "Alaska mackerel" are considered far superior to the common menhaden from which they spring. "Pickled whitefish" are much more satisfactory to the imagination than the weakfish which represent them in the market. "Cod steaks" sound promising even when cut from the savage wolffish. "Kennebec salmon" are always in demand whether from Maine or in the guise of redfish and steelhead from Oregon. It is, therefore, with little surprise that we hear just at this time of the wonderful dinners provided by a celebrated restaurateur in Washington with "young halibut" from Norfolk as the chief attraction transformed and idealized from the homely and humble winter flatfish, which has approached our shores, not to thrill epicures, but to deposit its eggs peacefully. We are reminded of a circumstance in a noted coffee house in Melbourne a few years ago which created a great deal of excitement. The proprietor introduced a fish of surprising sweetness and delicacy of flavor, under the name of "Sweet William." His patrons eagerly devoured "Sweet William" and the fish had a tremendous run. It was tender, juicy, and entirely free from bones. All went swimmingly for a time. Inquiries failed to reveal the name of the new favorite until one luckless day somebody saw a barrelful of young sharks go into the establishment, to be translated into "Sweet William." Then the volume of business suddenly shrunk and the air was black with threats of suits for damages by enraged customers. And so—what's in a name?—Forest and Stream.

Insane Patients Given an Outing.

[From the Newburgh News.]

Of all the novel sleigh rides occasioned by the recent snow, Middletown can boast of the most original. A few days since the inmates of the Insane Asylum, at that place were treated to a glide over the "beautiful." A stranger in the City, as he looked at the bright and apparently happy faces of the occupants of the sleighs, would not for a moment suspect that they were inmates of an Insane Asylum.

A "Few Corrections."

John McElhone, of Ellenville, has sold his Sam's Point property, including the Lond Pond, for $47,000.—Gardiner Weekly.

John McElhone never owned the "Sam's Point property." It does not "include Long Pond," nor come within miles of it, and Mr. McElhone has not sold any property for "$47,000." With these trifling exceptions, the item quoted is correct.—Ellenville Journal.

SHIP ROCK TERRACE FOUND

IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE ON THE OCEAN'S BOTTOM.

Sailed From New-York City on September 22, 1887, With a Cargo of Oil and Phosphate of Lime Valued at $125,000—The Facts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—Information has reached this City that the long missed clipper ship Rock Terrace, which was supposed to have gone down a year ago while bound to Japan, has drifted into the Gilbert group of Islands in a sound condition, and with only a few inches of water in its hold. The Rock Terrace sailed from the Standard Oil works here on September 22, 1887, for Hiogo, Japan, with a cargo of oil and phosphate lime valued at $125,000. When near the Phillipine Islands Captain Atkinson, for some unexplained reason, but it is believed through trouble with his crew, left his vessel and landed on an island near which the vessel happened to be passing and left it to its fate.

CROWN PRINCE RUDOLPH'S DEATH.

He Went on a Hunting Expedition the Day Before, it is Stated.

By Cable to The Freeman.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—Crown Prince Rudolph left Vienna Monday in a court carriage for Breintenfurth, where a cab was to convey him to Meyerling. The Crown Prince, however, preferred to walk and did not use the cab. During the walk he conversed cheerfully with those who accompanied him. On Tuesday the Crown Prince and his friends went on a hunting expedition. Upon the return of the party the Crown Prince complained of a headache and retired to his room. He sent a telegram to the Palace at Vienna stating that he would be unable to attend the imperial dinner which was to be given that evening, and wrote several letters in his own room. Wednesday morning he awoke before 7 o'clock and summoned his old servant Johann, to whom he gave an order to have his breakfast served at 7:30. At the appointed time his valet carried his breakfast to the room, and was horrified to find the Crown Prince dead in his bed. The remains were brought to Vienna this morning. A large crowd surrounded the station in this City when the train arrived. The most profound silence reigned. The station itself had been filled with people, but they quietly withdrew when requested to do so by the guards.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of the British Medical Journal, states that the death of Crown Prince Rudolph, was caused by a rupture of the cardiac walls, with an effusion into the pericardium.

"There are moments when silence prolonged and unbroken
More expressive may be than all words ever spoken."

Look at that wan and wasted woman, once the picture of health, now so pallid. She cannot begin to tell her sufferings, but as from day to day she goes through the house, attending to her many cares, her attenuated form, her white face, her stooping shoulders, her pinched features, all tell that she is a silent martyr to disease. Her once cherry voice is seldom heard, but her silence tells her sufferings more than words can do. O! ye silent, sorrowing, suffering, sisters, there is a cure for your troubles; Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign remedy for the derangements and maladies peculiar to your sex. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, semstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, perserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—Rev. S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt Spofford, Texas

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was

and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY

LETTER FROM ELLENBURGH BY A FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS CITY.

A City which Expects to be the Capital of A New State—Gold Found on Building Lots on the Principal Streets.

E. M. Brigham, Jr., a former resident of this City, now of Ellenburgh, Kittitas County, Washington Territory, writes as follows under date of January 26, to THE FREEMAN:

SOME INTERESTING DATA.

"So many letters are received here asking about this portion of the country that I believe something in reference to Ellenburgh and vicinity will be of interest to readers of THE FREEMAN."

WHAT ONE MAN HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

"In 1875 John A. Shoudy and family left the then new city of Seattle, on Puget Sound, with a big pack train loaded with merchandise, looking for a good location to trade with Indians, and the then few whites left here by the Hudson Bay Company. They left Seattle on a Wednesday morning, some time in July, 1875, and after 24 days' hard driving Mr. Shoudy arrived in the Kittitas Valley. He rode around for a week or more looking for a suitable place to build himself a log hut, and at last settled on what is now called 'Shoudy's Place,' a little hill not many feet from the Northern Pacific Railroad depot of today. Mr. Shoudy traded his stock about all out with Indians and whites, and then, in January of 1876, started back to Seattle to 'lay in' a new stock. Being well pleased with the valley and its farming lands he called together, while in Seattle, some of his old friends and made up a party of six families to come to Kittitas Valley and settle. In 1878 Mr. Shoudy had surveyed a town site just east of his trading post and sent to Puget Sound for families to come and locate homes for themselves. Twenty-eight people responded. He called his post "Ellen's Post," after his wife, and from that the people named their settlement Ellenburgh. At this time Ellenburgh had only 26 citizens, the rest of the people having settled on ranches around about the valley. To-day, after 11 years have rolled by, Ellenburgh and the Kittitas Valley have over 22,000 inhabitants and still more keep coming."

A REMARKABLE GROWTH.

"Ellenburgh has more than doubled itself in the last year on account of it being the nearest railroad city for the new country just being settled in what is called the 'Big Bend of the Columbia River' and the Conconnolly Mining Camp. Kittitas Valley is abundant in minerals, such as coal, iron, gold and copper, which are now being uncovered for the first time. Two weeks or more ago on the main street some workmen, when digging a trench to lay sewer pipe, came to a ledge of rocks and in that ledge was found small nuggets of A No. 1 gold. It set the town wild and lots in blocks on both sides of the street where gold was found jumped from $75 per lot to $300 per lot of 120 feet deep by 60 feet front. All around through the valley can be found just such streaks of some mineral."

IDLERS NOT WANTED.

"But Ellenburgh itself is the City that when we are admitted into the Union of States will be the Capital city. I can look down Pearl-street at this moment and see hundreds hurrying to and fro. No idle men—everybody who wishes to work can work and idlers cannot stay. If they do not work for wages they are put on the chain gang to fix streets, thus keeping tramps and idlers out of the way. One year ago I first set foot in Ellenburgh to make it my home, and at that time out of 782 buildings there was but one brick building; to-day the place has 12 brick blocks costing in total $1,028,645.72.

WHAT BANKERS HAVE DONE.

"Benjamin E. Snipes & Co., private bankers, have just finished a 'Mineral Stone Bank Building' costing $52,000. B. E. Snipes & Co. are the richest bankers in the Territory, having a capital of $1,500,000. But I must stop for this time. I would like to hear from my old friends in Kingston and Ulster County who think of seeking the West for homes and a fortune and will give them every bit of information I can."

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

What a Number of Brainy Men Find to Write About in Two Magazines.

Opinions about articles in two magazines follow:

THE "FORUM" FOR FEBRUARY.

In the February number of the Forum an important enterprise is begun. W. S. Lilly, a distinguished English essayist and perhaps the ablest opponent of the application of the evolutionist doctrine to morals, undertakes to point out that civilization, especially Anglo-Saxon civilization, is suffering from a weakening of the moral idea; and in articles to follow he proposes to show specifically how the ethical standard has been lowered in art, in politics, in journalism and in other important lines of activity. These essays will constitute an inquiry into the moral force of our civilization as compared with the past. Judge Alfred Conkling Coxe, of the U. S. District Bench, proposes a simple plan for the relief of the U. S. Supreme Court—a plan that requires no important legislation, but is within the reach of the court itself. The statistics of the court's work and many interesting facts about its history and about the work of courts in general are incorporated in the article. Prof. Henry Wade Rogers, Dean of the Law Department of the University of Michigan, after narrating the history of International Extradition Treaties, points out the necessity of a new treaty with Great Britian, the present one being but a legal encouragement to theft. Other subjects of political importance discussed in this number are "Obstacles to Annexation with Canada;" by the Marquis of Lorne, who, in a tone exceedingly friendly to the United States, points out what he regards as the practical disadvantages to both countries of political annexation; and "Shall Negro Majorities Rule?" by Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who tells why he regards the negro problem as a race problem pure and simple, which legislation cannot change, and the future of which is surrounded by many dangers. Edward Atkinson, dealing with several "Reforms that do not Reform," shows with great fullness of illustration why he thinks the Henry George land-tax theory would cause a monopoly of land. This article contains interesting, sharp criticisms of many economic theories, and shows the instability of the investments and enterprises that are supposed to be the most stable. The Rev. C. M. Morse, who shows a leaning towards the George doctrine, explains how the churches may regain the sympathy of the working classes. His narrative of the change that the rise of an aristocracy of wealth has wrought in the churches is interesting.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Everything. "Sardines in olive oil" sell readily as disguised Eastport herring in cottonseed oil. "Ocean trout" and "Alaska mackerel" are considered far superior to the common menhaden from which they spring. "Pickled whitefish" are much more satisfactory to the imagination than the weakfish which represent them in the market. "Cod steaks" sound promising even when cut from the savage wolffish. "Kennebec salmon" are always in demand whether from Maine or in the guise of redfish and steelhead from Oregon. It is, therefore, with little surprise that we hear just at this time of the wonderful dinners provided by a celebrated restaurateur in Washington with "young halibut" from Norfolk as the chief attraction transformed and idealized from the homely and humble winter flatfish, which has approached our shores, not to thrill epicures, but to deposit its eggs peacefully. We are reminded of a circumstance in a noted coffee house in Melbourne a few years ago which created a great deal of excitement. The proprietor introduced a fish of surprising sweetness and delicacy of flavor, under the name of "Sweet William." His patrons eagerly devoured "Sweet William" and the fish had a tremendous run. It was tender, juicy, and entirely free from bones. All went swimmingly for a time. Inquiries failed to reveal the name of the new favorite until one luckless day somebody saw a barrelful of young sharks go into the establishment, to be translated into "Sweet William." Then the volume of business suddenly shrunk and the air was black with threats of suits for damages by enraged customers. And so—what's in a name?—Forest and Stream.

Insane Patients Given an Outing.

[From the Newburgh News.]

Of all the novel sleigh rides occasioned by the recent snow, Middletown can boast of the most original. A few days since the inmates of the Insane Asylum, at that place were treated to a glide over the "beautiful." A stranger in the City, as he looked at the bright and apparently happy faces of the occupants of the sleighs, would not for a moment suspect that they were inmates of an Insane Asylum.

A "Few Corrections."

John McElhone, of Ellenville, has sold his Sam's Point property, including the Lond Pond, for $47,000.—Gardiner Weekly.

John McElhone never owned the "Sam's Point property." It does not "include Long Pond," nor come within miles of it, and Mr. McElhone has not sold any property for "$47,000." With these trifling exceptions the item quoted is correct.—Ellenville Journal.

SHIP ROCK TERRACE FOUND

IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE ON THE OCEAN'S BOTTOM.

Sailed From New-York City on September 22, 1887, With a Cargo of Oil and Phosphate of Lime Valued at $125,000—The Facts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—Information has reached this City that the long missed clipper ship Rock Terrace, which was supposed to have gone down a year ago while bound to Japan, has drifted into the Gilbert group of Islands in a sound condition, and with only a few inches of water in its hold. The Rock Terrace sailed from the Standard Oil works here on September 22, 1887, for Hiogo, Japan, with a cargo of oil and phosphate lime valued at $125,000. When near the Phillipine Islands Captain Atkinson, for some unexplained reason, but it is believed through trouble with his crew, left his vessel and landed on an island near which the vessel happened to be passing and left it to its fate.

CROWN PRINCE RUDOLPH'S DEATH.

He Went on a Hunting Expedition the Day Before, it is Stated.

By Cable to The Freeman.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—Crown Prince Rudolph left Vienna Monday in a coupé carriage for Breintenfurth, where a cab was to convey him to Meyerling. The Crown Prince, however, preferred to walk and did not use the cab. During the walk he conversed cheerfully with those who accompanied him. On Tuesday the Crown Prince and his friends went on a hunting expedition. Upon the return of the party the Crown Prince complained of a headache and retired to his room. He sent a telegram to the Palace at Vienna stating that he would be unable to attend the Imperial dinner which was to be given that evening, and wrote several letters in his own room. Wednesday morning he awoke before 7 o'clock and summoned his old servant Johann, to whom he gave an order to have his breakfast served at 7:30. At the appointed time his valet carried his breakfast to the room, and was horrified to find the Crown Prince dead in his bed. The remains were brought to Vienna this morning. A large crowd surrounded the station in this City when the train arrived. The most profound silence reigned. The station itself had been filled with people, but they quietly withdrew when requested to do so by the guards.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of the British Medical Journal, states that the death of Crown Prince Rudolph, was caused by a rupture of the cardiac walls, with an effusion into the pericardium.

"There are moments when silence prolonged and unbroken
More expressive may be than all words ever spoken."

Look at that wan and wasted woman, once the picture of health, now so pallid. She cannot begin to tell her sufferings, but as from day to day she goes through the house, attending to her many cares, her attenuated form, her white face, her stooping shoulders, her pinched features, all tell that she is a silent martyr to disease. Her once cherry voice is seldom heard, but her silence tells her sufferings more than words can do. O! ye silent, sorrowing, suffering, sisters, there is a cure for your troubles; Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign remedy for the derangements and maladies peculiar to your sex. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME.

THE TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

What has Been Done and What the Organization Hopes to Do in the Future—Interesting Facts and Figures—More Money Needed.

He confers a kindness who gives quickly.—Publius Syrus.

The Industrial Home of this City is a worthy institution, doing a good work. The twelfth annual report, furnished by the Managers, follows:

A RETROSPECTIVE GLANCE.

"Twelve years ago, at this season, the newly-appointed Managers of the Home, which had been formally organized in the previous December, were struggling to raise by subscriptions the means for its maintenance. The numerous snow storms of that winter, the cold and slush through which we plodded, our many discouragements and the cordial help that rejoiced our hearts, all are fresh in our memories. There was need of prompt action; for the children in our City Alms House, in violation of State law, were waiting there for the promised opening of the Home. Many more were being sent at heavy cost to the County from the New-Paltz Poor-House to a remote institution. Numbers were growing up in the streets to vagrancy and vice; and two old people, afterwards received as inmates, were supported in a precarious way, dependent upon private charity. On the other hand, the Managers had firmly resolved to take no farther step towards meeting these demands until the support of the Home for at least one year was insured. This plan was adhered to; the necessary amount raised, largely in annual subscriptions, and the work was fully entered upon in the following spring. Since then it has gone steadily on, until we give, to-day, our twelfth annual report."

IN THE HOME THE PAST YEAR.

"The Home has had in charge since our last report 70 children, 25 of whom have been received during the year. Nine have been returned to parents or guardians, 19 have found homes in reliable families where they are doing well. Fifty so placed have been visited this year, with very satisfactory results, and many more heard from. Thirty-nine are now in charge of the Home. In June, two Managers, with one of the Assistant Matrons, took 12 children a day's journey into the country to ask for invitations for "summer visits" for the little ones. Careful inquiries had been made in advance as to whether we should apply, and although entirely unexpected, the whole party was kindly welcomed by the various families upon whom calls were made. All the children remained in that neighborhood to visit, two additional ones were sent later in the season and five are still there. After arranging this matter, the Managers went on to visit a number of children adopted at different times during the several years past. It was delightful to see the sturdy, healthy, bright boys bounding over the hills, full of happiness in their homes; to see the prizes they had gained, their pet animals, etc. Cordial as was the hospitality shown the Managers "for their work's sake" the sight of the children was even more enjoyable."

A BOY'S LETTER.

"'In one case a change seemed advisable. The Board of Managers decided, after hearing the report of the Visiting Committee, to remove the lad to a new home, from which he writes as follows:

"'DEAR MISS F.—I received your letter and will answer your questions. You want to know if I am a good boy. Sometimes I am and other times, Mrs. Wood says, I am very troublesome. I cut wood and do chores. I sometimes do as I am told and other times I do as I please, and they do not like it. I go to church with the family and sit with them but they do not stay to Sunday School, so I have not been yet. It is two miles we have to go to church so if I stayed I should have to walk home. I study the catechism at home.'" "'Yours truly,'"

"'A. A. D.'"

A LETTER FROM A GIRL.

"We give another letter from a girl who has been two years in the place from which she writes:"

"'DEAR SISTER:—I am getting along very good, and am glad to get your letter, and to know that you are well and have a good house too. I go to school and like it very much, and we have a good many scholars and the girl I sit with is Ella W. We had a big snow storm on Sunday. We have two little calves, one has a white face. We have three cats, two is black and white and one is gray. I have not forgot you and was glad to hear that you had not forgot me. I want to see you very much and hope to see you again. I was glad to see Miss T. when she came and to hear how you was getting along. We have a little girl seven years old. We have fun playing "hide and seek." I like it very much. I hope you are learning a good deal. I am writing this all myself. I will be glad when summer comes, for I don't like winter as I do summer. I am in the Third Reader and spelling book. I have to learn tables to say in my class. I will stop now because I cannot think of anything more to say. Yours truly, from your sister, your loving sister.'" "'T.'"

A FOSTER MOTHER'S LETTER.

"A foster mother writes of a boy taken a few months since:"

"'DEAR FRIEND—After a long silence I thought I would write you these few lines to let you know that we are all well, hoping you are the same. R—is growing to be a fine, big boy, and he is as good as he can be. I would like you to write and let me know when his birthday comes off. I was asking him would n't he like little Harry with him. He said little Harry couldn't have any part of his mamma and papa. F—was here yesterday. She is well. R—says he expects Santa Claus about Christmas. He says his prayers and sings his little hymns the same as usual. I remain yours very truly.'" "'A. F.'"

SUMMER JAUNTS.

"Late in the summer many invitations came from other sections, especially Wallkill, and other children went out to visit, have fresh air, a healthful change and a kind welcome. Twenty-five in all were so fortunate and those who returned showed marked improvement in health and vigor, and had many tales to tell of their country life. This lessening of the family at the Home during the hot weather was a great boon in many ways."

THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

"Thanksgiving and Christmas brought added testimony to a growing interest in the work of the Home, in bountiful gifts not only from this City and its immediate vicinity but from various sections of the County. These made the Matrons and Managers as happy as were the children and old ladies who received them. At New Year, a box came from the Girls' Friendly Society, of Saugerties, which gave much gratification."

BUT LITTLE ILLNESS.

"We gratefully record, as a special mercy that during the entire year there has been very little sickness and no epidemic. Two children have died, one immediately after admission, the other a constitutionally feeble and delicate child. Mrs. Green, the oldest inmate of the Home, now in her eighty-seventh year, had a long time of sickness and prostration, but is again nearly in her usual health. Mrs. Howe, though failing in strength, has been able to assist in her support, as heretofore, by sewing. Mrs. Kugler has found friends in Bridgeport, Conn., with whom she has spent many months very happily and in improved health."

KIND WORDS FOR THE MATRON.

"In our record of mercies, we must express our appreciation for the faithful, unfailing interest and efforts of Miss Ester, the Matron, and her assistants. With added experience in the work, they show constantly increased ability to perform it, and ever deepening interest

RETURNING THANKS.

"It is impossible to adequately express our thankfulness for the willing hearts and helping hands that have sustained the Home during all these years. Annual subscriptions sometimes called 'our sheet-anchor' have in most instances been steadily kept up. They have ranged from a fraction of a dollar to $25, $50 or $100 from each subscriber, every offering being valued and welcome. We speak now of the regular yearly support. Beyond this, donations and legacies have come in just when most needed to meet special demands. Gifts of all kinds, new and partly worn clothing, fish, fruit and vegetables, meat, poultry, milk, every description of provisions—have greatly lessened our monied outlay—while personal care and responsibility has in some instances lessened our labors as well. The kindly transportation of the inmates of the Home by the boats and railways of Ulster County, the free use of express and telephone, the services of lawyers and physicians without any fees; work given from time to time by mechanics and others, the privilege of using the various newspapers of the County, all have been invaluable. We must not fail to mention in this connection the hearty efforts of one lady in Kingston, who has interested a band of competent workers in sewing and quilting for the Home. In Saugerties, Woodstock and Wallkill, similar work has been done by other good friends of the cause. All these, and innumerable other acts of kindness have gladdened our hearts, upheld our hands."

CONCERNING CERTAIN MONEYS.

"It may be asked: 'What of the money paid by City and County for children's board?' This is an important source of revenue but could by no means meet necessary expenses, for some children are not paid for in this way, and in any case the charge is purposely made so low as to cover only the cost of board, leaving no provision for clothing, salaries of care-takers, repairs to property, etc. The weekly amount was made so small in order that there be no question of anything like money-making through the income from public funds. Consequently, some of our heaviest expenses have to be met by private contributions."

A DEATH AND A RESIGNATION.

"Just after the annual meeting of last year Captain Jacob H. Tremper, a faithful friend and Trustee was removed from among us. He had had special charge of alterations and enlargement of the building and had given it much time and thought, being always ready when needed for this work. Another loss has been sustained in the resignation of Miss S. M. VanVleck, consequent upon her removal to another city. As one and another are taken from association with this work, we earnestly ask that others, especially the young ladies of Kingston and Ulster County, will acquaint themselves with what the Home is doing and in the varied ways that are possible 'lend a hand.' Here we would suggest a plan, common in other places, of a 'Young Ladies' Auxiliary.' Such a society in Newark, N. J., is responsible for the entire sewing of a large orphan asylum. Will not our young people, either unitedly or in connection with their different churches, organize for this purpose and assume some charge of an enterprise that before many years will devolve wholly upon their fostering care?"

A LARGER INCOME NEEDED.

"As to finances, it is the 'old, old story.' We need a larger income for current expenses. The mortgage is untouched since last year. The interest is a drain upon us. The whole sum we owe is only $1,200. The offer made a year ago of a handsome sum towards clearing this finally away is still open. Will not our friends, our old friends, who already have done and are doing for the cause, and our new friends, who have not yet realized that we need their aid, open hearts and hands, and enable us to celebrate the close of our twelfth year by entire freedom from debt? Greater ease as to our finances would mean more work done more easily."

CO-OPERATION ASKED FOR.

"As we ask for money, so equally earnestly do we ask for co-operation in other ways. A recent article in the Churchman, though grossly misleading in most respects, has a sad substratum of fact. There are—right among us in our towns and hamlets, still more in the outlying districts of Ulster County—those who form a degraded, practically heathen population. Every church, every individual laboring to uplift these or to assist respectable and industrious families in a time of special distress, will find the Home an indispensable centre for this work. Here orphaned or neglected children can find shelter, instruction, protection and Christian training."

CHILDREN CARED FOR.

Since it was opened, 400 children and four adult persons have been in our charge as inmates, cared for in illness and health as if one family; 143 have gone back to their own homes; 200 to families who have taken them with the idea of carrying on and completing the work begun in the Home. In addition to all this, there are countless opportunities growing out of the more immediate duties of the Managers for friendly, helpful association with many other persons needing aid or encouragement."

WORTHY OF TRUST.

"And now, as we close this twelfth report, we appeal to you to ask whether this work is not needed, whether it has not helped many to a better life? Some who came to us in childhood and have entered manhood and womanhood can testify that this is so. Many a discouraged parent, left struggling with little ones in poverty and sickness, can say that the Home has given entire household consciousness of sympathy and an upward impetus. But those behind the scenes, public officials who best know the awful risks and pollutions surrounding neglected children—they know what this work is doing. The Home has been worthy of trust so far. Trust it more. Entrust to those who are carrying it on, a larger portion of the means you have, be they much or little. And you will be glad, some day, that your means, perhaps your self-denial, have widened and deepened this power to seek and save."

"MARY ISABELLA FORSYTH, President."

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

The following resolution was adopted:

The Managers and Trustees of the Industrial Home desire to express—in connection with this first annual meeting after the death of Capt. J. H. Tremper—their sense of the loss sustained by the Home in the removal of one who has been since the organization of the Home an efficient Trustee, a valued advisor and friend.

THE 120TH REGIMENT MONUMENT.

A Prospective Visit of Veterans to the Battle Field at Gettysburg.

While the members of the Executive Committee of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regimental Union were in session, recently, in Kingston, they talked over the prospective visit of veterans to the Gettysburg battlefield, to dedicate a monument, to be erected on that field, to the memory of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regiment. It was stated that the monument would be taken to Gettysburg June 1, and placed in position. The day upon which the members of the Regiment will visit the field has not been determined.

TO READ A PAPER.

Colonel C. D. Westbrook is engaged in preparing a paper on the battle of Gettysburgh and the part the Regiment took in the same, to be read at the re-union. Colonel Westbrook will show that three important mistakes were made in marking the places of the line of battle on the second day, on the map of the survey of the United States engineers.

One man was given "two weeks longer to visit bar-rooms and get intoxicated," but after that length of time he "must keep away from such places and wear a blue ribbon." Another man has been cautioned to "get rid of his housekeeper."

The Regular Weekly Rehearsals Resumed Last Evening—the Music Rendered.

The members of the Kingston Philharmonic Society resumed their regular weekly rehearsals last night at the City Hall, under the leadership of Professor George F. Hulslander, of Boston, who has been engaged to conduct the rehearsals of the Society as heretofore, until the close of the year. There was a fair attendance of members, and all seemed pleased to get to work again.

The Conductor spoke in high terms of the work at the late festival. He said Carl Zerrahn, who was now conceded to be the best oratorio Conductor in this country, had frequently spoken to him since the festival regarding its success. Zerrahn, he said, assured him that he did not often have the good fortune of conducting a chorus where the voices blended so well and where the entire work of the singers was so creditable. Professor Hulslander, continuing, said it would pay to study carefully, and do good work. He believed that if the Society had not been entirely successful financially in this first instance, success would be certain to follow in the future even in that respect, if the singers kept together and continued to study and do good work.

After the singing of a number of choruses the Conductor said he was surprised at the great increase shown in the body of tone since the last rehearsal previous to the festival.

It was resolved by the Society that those who desired to join for the balance of the year could hand in their names with the initiation fee, and their application would be acted upon by the Committee.

Rehearsals will take place on Wednesday night of each week, until further notice.

Music at Theatres.

The following was printed in THE FREEMAN of Monday concerning a performance in Kingston Opera House, Saturday evening.

The waits between the acts were short, the applause was frequent and prolonged, and the music furnished by the orchestra was pleasing. The musicians, however, received "a hint" from the Stage Manager that they will be apt to remember for some time to come. It seems to be the custom here for orchestras to finish the "tune" being played regardless of signals from the Acting Stage Manager to "stop right there." At the end of the third act, on Saturday night, the musicians, in order not to spoil the artistic effect of the rendition of the selection they were playing, did not heed the order of the Stage Manager. Twice the order was repeated, and the third time it was given in a way more forcible than polite. Then the orchestra suddenly stopped. In New-York City theatres the musicians cease playing the moment the signal is given, though they generally regulate the time to give a number so that it will be finished when the curtain is ready to be raised. If leaders in Kingston City would at once start up the music when the curtain falls at the close of an act, instead of dilly-dallying for five minutes or more, the public would be better suited than it now is.

In relation thereto, a letter has been received from Professor Williams, leader of the orchestra. It seems that THE FREEMAN was misinformed, as to the flaring of the lights, hence the orchestra was in no way to blame. This correction is made freely, because it seems to be necessary. There has been no issue raised as to the quality of the music. It is conceded that it is excellent and has been frequently favorably mentioned. Mr. Williams' letter—it would make nearly a column—could not be printed to-day on account of a press of other matter.

CHAT ABOUT ICE AND "ICE MEN."

The Rondout Creek has been boomed with logs to keep the ice from floating into the Hudson River.

A firm of ice dealers have been offered $175,000 for 60,000 tons of ice stored in large houses at West Troy. The offer has not been accepted.

A dispatch from Troy to THE FREEMAN, to-day, stated: Arrangements have been made to cut ice from Round Lake, for the New-York market. Ice claims have been staked out on Lake Champlain, near Crown Point, for the probable demand from Hudson River ice men.

"Do peanuts grow in Ireland?"

"Faix an' they do. The lord that lived contagint to me fayther's house had a big grove of peanut trees, an' the ground under them trees was covered with peanuts from wan year's end to the other."

What a Lawyer Said.

During the examination of a witness in Surrogate's Court, Kingston, the other day, the examining lawyer was told by his opponent that he was "fishing behind the net." During the same trial one lawyer asked another lawyer to take the stand as a witness, as he wished to ask him a few questions. "I will," said the other promptly, "if you will give me my witness fee, 50 cents. I have been at work a long time in this case, and would like to get a little something out of it."

GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE.

THE MISERABLE MAIL SERVICE ALONG THE HUDSON RIVER.

No Attention Paid to Complaints of the Public—Political "Heelers" Substituted for Competent and Trustworthy Clerks—The Facts.

"It might be worse, but not much."

Scores of leading newspapers, Democratic and Republican, in this State are reprinting THE FREEMAN'S criticisms on the present poor mail service along the Hudson River and inland. The strictures of the Hudson Register—a dyed-in-the-wool Democratic organ—fully endorsing THE FREEMAN'S statements, is also being widely copied.

VOICING A GENERAL COMPLAINT.

Portions of the Register's statements are as follows:

"THE KINGSTON FREEMAN voices a complaint that is general when it declares that "the mail service along the Hudson River seems to be steadily growing from bad to worse." THE FREEMAN says that many of its exchanges now-a-days reach its office long after they are of interest. And a general shout of endorsement goes up from all the newspaper offices in the Hudson River Valley.—Several Exchanges."

"The complaint made by THE KINGSTON FREEMAN, and echo'd by its contemporaries, is well founded, but the worst feature of this defective service is not stated. Subscribers to newspapers along the line of the Hudson River Railroad, within 10 or 20 miles of the point of mailing, very seldom receive their papers with any degree of regularity. Sometimes they double the road twice before being delivered at their destination. For instance, newspaper packages from Hudson to Coxsackie and Stuyvesant frequently go through to Syracuse, and are delivered on the return trip. This is extremely annoying even for weekly papers, but it is intolerable when applied to dailies."

THE MAIL SERVICE IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

THE FREEMAN has in past years criticized the mail service, when occasion demanded it, without fear or favor of anybody. At one time the West Shore service under Superintendent Jackson's administration, was all at 'sixes and sevens.' He did not wait months to remedy the matter, nor did he put men in the mail cars whose only recommendation was that they were "political heelers." Every complaint made to Mr. Jackson was promptly investigated, and where a clerk was at fault he was either fined or removed.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH.

THE FREEMAN has no desire to misrepresent Doolittle or anyone else, but in common with other newspapers of standing it is desirous of having its mail handled with reasonable dispatch and care. Mistakes happen everywhere, but the gross carelessness exhibited at present is inexcusable.

Minor Notes Around Town.

Conductor Henry Smith was in Rondout to-day.

The retail price of coal at the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's works here is the same as when winter first began.

The Kingston City Drum Corps now numbers 29 members. The drummers are becoming proficient in handling the sticks and in drill. It is understood they will give a public parade soon.

Miss Margaret Connelly, of Port-Ewen, and Miss Lulu Cole, of Rondout, were present at the reception and ball given by Palestine Commandery in Metropolitan Opera House, New-York City, Tuesday night.

C. P. Carter, of Kingston, has devised a simple arrangement by means of which amateur photographers can use the flash light to greater advantage than heretofore. The flash light is caused by placing magnesium powder in a small reservoir over an alcohol lamp, so that it will ignite when the bulb of the rubber tube is pressed, blowing the powder into the flame. The important point is to make the flash the instant the bulb is pressed. A failure to do this will result in a poor picture.

The Carnival at Albany.

A dispatch from Albany to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: The mid-winter carnival will be held on Saturday of this week, though the project to erect an immense ice fort will be abandoned, as the ice cannot be secured. The programme has necessarily been shortened. The day will be devoted to skating, curling, bobbing, tobogganing and races, with a parade of the coasting clubs and tobogganers in the early evening followed by a skating carnival on the park lake. The festivities will close with a magnificent display of fireworks in the park, including a representation of the Falls of Niagara. The day will be made a total holiday and the State officers and members of the Legislature will be invited to participate.

About "Cold Cycles."

[From the Hudson Republican.]

A veteran ice cutter between here and Boston is reported as saying that the cold cycles change every five or seven years. The prediction or opinion has been more than verified within the past 30 years. That is to say in 1858 ice was not fit for cutting till the latter part of February, and the season lasted into March; then came the year 1863, five years intervening; then 1870, seven years intervening; then 1874, four years intervening; then 1881, seven years intervening, and now we have the seven years from 1881 to 1888.

On Albany-Avenue, Kingston.

A horseman says that owners of fast horses do not always realize the distance covered in speeding, on Albany-avenue, Kingston. The distance is half a mile. Some men drive up and down, at racing speed, for two hours, almost continuously. They would not think of driving their horses to Stone Ridge at top speed, and yet they cover much more than that distance in two hours on this avenue.

An Ellenville Opinion.

[From the Ellenville Journal.]

We have inadvertently omitted to note sooner the receipt of the "Carriers' Address" of the KINGSTON FREEMAN, a specimen of elegant printing, the title-page bearing a view on the Rondout Creek, showing the West Shore bridge.

A Mid-Winter Trip.

The propeller S. L. Crosby, of the Cornell Steamboat Company's Line, arrived in the Rondout Creek this forenoon, from New-York. It will remain here until spring.

A Poughkeepsie Opinion.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle says the boodlers should be tried in Dutchess County "where even-handed justice sits enthroned with one eye bandaged."

Horse Note.

Superintendent Bradfield, of the West Shore, who resides in this City, is the owner of a Kentucky bred horse. The blood of a famous racer it is said flows in its veins.

Boat Note.

The steam passenger yacht Charles A. Schultz has been taken off its route between Rondout and Eddyville, for the second time this winter.

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME.

THE TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

What has Been Done and What the Organization Hopes to Do in the Future—Interesting Facts and Figures—More Money Needed.

He confers a kindness who gives quickly.—Publius Syrus.

The Industrial Home of this City is a worthy institution, doing a good work. The twelfth annual report, furnished by the Managers, follows:

A RETROSPECTIVE GLANCE.

"Twelve years ago, at this season, the newly-appointed Managers of the Home, which had been formally organized in the previous December, were struggling to raise by subscriptions the means for its maintenance. The numerous snow storms of that winter, the cold and slush through which we plodded, our many discouragements and the cordial help that rejoiced our hearts, all are fresh in our memories. There was need of prompt action; for the children in our City Alms House, in violation of State law, were waiting there for the promised opening of the Home. Many more were being sent at heavy cost to the County from the New-Paltz Poor-House to a remote institution. Numbers were growing up in the streets to vagrancy and vice; and two old people, afterwards received as inmates, were supported in a precarious way, dependent upon private charity. On the other hand, the Managers had firmly resolved to take no farther step towards meeting these demands until the support of the Home for at least one year was insured. This plan was adhered to; the necessary amount raised, largely in annual subscriptions, and the work was fully entered upon in the following spring. Since then it has gone steadily on, until we give, to-day, our twelfth annual report."

IN THE HOME THE PAST YEAR.

"The Home has had in charge since our last report 70 children, 25 of whom have been received during the year. Nine have been returned to parents or guardians, 19 have found homes in reliable families where they are doing well. Fifty so placed have been visited this year, with very satisfactory results, and many more heard from. Thirty-nine are now in charge of the Home. In June, two Managers, with one of the Assistant Matrons, took 12 children a day's journey into the country to ask for invitations for "summer visits" for the little ones. Careful inquiries had been made in advance as to whether we should apply, and although entirely unexpected, the whole party was kindly welcomed by the various families upon whom calls were made. All the children remained in that neighborhood to visit, two additional ones were sent later in the season and five are still there. After arranging this matter, the Managers went on to visit a number of children adopted at different times during the several years past. It was delightful to see the sturdy, healthy, bright boys bounding over the hills, full of happiness in their homes; to see the prizes they had gained, their pet animals, etc. Cordial as was the hospitality shown the Managers "for their work's sake" the sight of the children was even more enjoyable."

A BOY'S LETTER.

"'In one case a change seemed advisable. The Board of Managers decided, after hearing the report of the Visiting Committee, to remove the lad to a new home, from which he writes as follows:

"'DEAR MISS F.—I received your letter and will answer your questions. You want to know if I am a good boy. Sometimes I am and other times, Mrs. Wood says, I am very troublesome. I cut wood and do chores. I sometimes do as I am told and other times I do as I please, and they do not like it. I go to church with the family and sit with them but they do not stay to Sunday School, so I have not been yet. It is two miles we have to go to church so if I stayed I should have to walk home. I study the catechism at home.'"

"'Yours truly,'"

"'A. A. D.'"

A LETTER FROM A GIRL.

"'DEAR SISTER:—I am getting along very good, and am glad to get your letter, and to know that you are well and have a good house too. I go to school and like it very much, and we have a good many scholars and the girl I sit with is Ella W. We had a big snow storm on Sunday. We have two little calves, one has a white face. We have three cats, two is black and white and one is gray. I have not forgot you and was glad to hear that you had not forgot me. I want to see you very much and hope to see you again. I was glad to see Miss T. when she came and to hear how you was getting along. We have a little girl seven years old. We have fun playing "hide and seek." I like it very much. I hope you are learning a good deal. I am writing this all myself. I will be glad when summer comes, for I don't like winter as I do summer. I am in the Third Reader and spelling book. I have to learn tables to say in my class. I will stop now because I cannot think of anything more to say. Yours truly, from your sister, your loving sister.'"

"'T.'"

A FOSTER MOTHER'S LETTER.

"A foster mother writes of a boy taken a few months since:"

"'DEAR FRIEND.—After a long silence I thought I would write you these few lines to let you know that we are all well, hoping you are the same. R— is growing to be a fine, big boy, and he is as good as he can be. I would like you to write and let me know when his birthday comes off. I was asking him would n't he like little Harry with him. He said little Harry couldn't have any part of his mamma and papa. F— was here yesterday. She is well. R— says he expects Santa Claus about Christmas. He says his prayers and sings his little hymns the same as usual. I remain yours very truly.'" "'A. P.'"

SUMMER JAUNTS.

"Late in the summer many invitations came from other sections, especially Wallkill, and other children went out to visit, have fresh air, a healthful change and a kind welcome. Twenty-five in all were so fortunate and those who returned showed marked improvement in health and vigor, and had many tales to tell of their country life. This lessening of the family at the Home during the hot weather was a great boon in many ways."

THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

"Thanksgiving and Christmas brought added testimony to a growing interest in the work of the Home, in bountiful gifts not only from this City and its immediate vicinity but from various sections of the County. These made the Matrons and Managers as happy as were the children and old ladies who received them. At New Year, a box came from the Girls' Friendly Society, of Saugerties, which gave much gratification."

BUT LITTLE ILLNESS.

"We gratefully record, as a special mercy that during the entire year there has been very little sickness and no epidemic. Two children have died, one immediately after admission, the other a constitutionally feeble and delicate child. Mrs. Green, the oldest inmate of the Home, now in her eighty-seventh year, had a long time of sickness and prostration, but is again nearly in her usual health. Mrs. Howe, though failing in strength, has been able to assist in her support, as heretofore, by sewing. Mrs. Kugler has found friends in Bridgeport, Conn., with whom she has spent many months very happily and in improved health."

KIND WORDS FOR THE MATRON.

"In our record of mercies, we must express our appreciation for the faithful, unfailing interest and efforts of Miss Ester, the Matron, and her assistants. With added experience in the work, they show constantly increased ability to perform it, and ever deepening interest

RETURNING THANKS.

"It is impossible to adequately express our thankfulness for the willing hearts and helping hands that have sustained the Home during all these years. Annual subscriptions sometimes called 'our sheet-anchor' have in most instances been steadily kept up. They have ranged from a fraction of a dollar to $25, $50 or $100 from each subscriber, every offering being valued and welcome. We speak now of the regular yearly support. Beyond this, donations and legacies have come in just when most needed to meet special demands. Gifts of all kinds, new and partly worn clothing, fish, fruit and vegetables, meat, poultry, milk, every description of provisions—have greatly lessened our monied outlay—while personal care and responsibility has in some instances lessened our labors as well. The kindly transportation of the inmates of the Home by the boats and railways of Ulster County, the free use of express and telephone, the services of lawyers and physicians without any fees; work given from time to time by mechanics and others, the privilege of using the various newspapers of the County, all have been invaluable. We must not fail to mention in this connection the hearty efforts of one lady in Kingston, who has interested a band of competent workers in sewing and quilting for the Home. In Saugerties, Woodstock and Wallkill, similar work has been done by other good friends of the cause. All these, and innumerable other acts of kindness have gladdened our hearts, upheld our hands."

CONCERNING CERTAIN MONEYS.

"It may be asked: 'What of the money paid by City and County for children's board?' This is an important source of revenue but could by no means meet necessary expenses, for some children are not paid for in this way, and in any case the charge is purposely made so low as to cover only the cost of board, leaving no provision for clothing, salaries of care-takers, repairs to property, etc. The weekly amount was made so small in order that there be no question of anything like money-making through the income from public funds. Consequently, some of our heaviest expenses have to be met by private contributions."

A DEATH AND A RESIGNATION.

"Just after the annual meeting of last year Captain Jacob H. Tremper, a faithful friend and Trustee was removed from among us. He had had special charge of alterations and enlargement of the building and had given it much time and thought, being always ready when needed for this work. Another loss has been sustained in the resignation of Miss S. M. VanVleck, consequent upon her removal to another city. As one and another are taken from association with this work, we earnestly ask that others, especially the young ladies of Kingston and Ulster County, will acquaint themselves with what the Home is doing and in the varied ways that are possible 'lend a hand.' Here we would suggest a plan, common in other places, of a 'Young Ladies' Auxiliary.' Such a society in Newark, N. J., is responsible for the entire sewing of a large orphan asylum. Will not our young people, either unitedly or in connection with their different churches, organize for this purpose and assume some charge of an enterprise that before many years will devolve wholly upon their fostering care?"

A LARGER INCOME NEEDED.

"As to finances, it is the 'old, old story.' We need a larger income for current expenses. The mortgage is untouched since last year. The interest is a drain upon us. The whole sum we owe is only $1,200. The offer made a year ago of a handsome sum towards clearing this finally away is still open. Will not our friends, our old friends, who already have done and are doing for the cause, and our new friends, who have not yet realized that we need their aid, open hearts and hands, and enable us to celebrate the close of our twelfth year by entire freedom from debt? Greater ease as to our finances would mean more work done more easily."

CO-OPERATION ASKED FOR.

"As we ask for money, so equally earnestly do we ask for co-operation in other ways. A recent article in the Churchman, though grossly misleading in most respects, has a sad substratum of fact. There are—right among us in our towns and hamlets, still more in the outlying districts of Ulster County—those who form a degraded, practically heathen population. Every church, every individual laboring to uplift these or to assist respectable and industrious families in a time of special distress, will find the Home an indispensable centre for this work. Here orphaned or neglected children can find shelter, instruction, protection and Christian training."

CHILDREN CARED FOR.

Since it was opened, 400 children and four adult persons have been in our charge as inmates, cared for in illness and health as if one family; 143 have gone back to their own homes; 200 to families who have taken them with the idea of carrying on and completing the work begun in the Home. In addition to all this, there are countless opportunities growing out of the more immediate duties of the Managers for friendly, helpful association with many other persons needing aid or encouragement."

WORTHY OF TRUST.

"And now, as we close this twelfth report, we appeal to you to ask whether this work is not needed, whether it has not helped many to a better life? Some who came to us in childhood and have entered manhood and womanhood can testify that this is so. Many a discouraged parent, left struggling with little ones in poverty and sickness, can say that the Home has given entire household consciousness of sympathy and an upward impetus. But those behind the scences, public officials who best know the awful risks and pollutions surrounding neglected children—they know what this work is doing. The Home has been worthy of trust so far. Trust it more. Entrust to those who are carrying it on, a larger portion of the means you have, be they much or little. And you will be glad, some day, that your means, perhaps your self-denial, have widened and deepened this power to seek and save."

"MARY ISABELLA FORSYTH, President."

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

The following resolution was adopted:

The Managers and Trustees of the Industrial Home desire to express—in connection with this first annual meeting after the death of Capt. J. H. Tremper—their sense of the loss sustained by the Home in the removal of one who has been since the organization of the Home an efficient Trustee, a valued advisor and friend.

THE 120TH REGIMENT MONUMENT.

A Prospective Visit of Veterans to the Battle Field at Gettysburg.

While the members of the Executive Committee of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regimental Union were in session, recently, in Kingston, they talked over the prospective visit of veterans to the Gettysburg battlefield, to dedicate a monument, to be erected on that field, to the memory of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regiment. It was stated that the monument would be taken to Gettysburg June 1, and placed in position. The day upon which the members of the Regiment will visit the field has not been determined.

MORE "WHITE CAP" NONSENSE.

Some of the "Practical Jokers" Before Long May be Seriously Hurt.

During the past three days several Rondout men have received alleged White Cap notices "to change their mode of living or suffer severe punishment." One man was given "two weeks longer to visit bar-rooms and get intoxicated," but after that length of time he "must keep away from such places and wear a blue ribbon." Another man has been cautioned to "get rid of his housekeeper."

AFFAIRS OF LOCAL RAILROADS.

Travel Heavy on the West Shore—Stations Along Hudson River Connecting Railroads.

Passenger travel on the West Shore Railroad is heavy. The freight traffic is also large.

Mrs. C. H. Miller, who owns a farm near Campbell Hall, has sold her entire farm for railroad purposes, for the sum of $24,300.

The new snow plow of the New York, Central and Hudson River Railroad weighs 70,000 pounds. It can make 30 miles an hour in a heavy drift.

The contract has been let to build six station houses along the Hudson Connecting Railroad between Highland and Campbell Hall. They will be located at Centerville, Clintondale, Modena, Tin Brook, Beren, and at the junction of the Orange County Railroad. The station houses will cost from $1,500 to $2,000 each. A station at Wallkill will be built by the proprietors of the milk condensary to suit their own tastes and wants.

Parties.

The members of the Fifth Ward Social Club gave a party in Liscomb's Opera House, Rondout, last night.

The Misses N. Forsyth and Anna Wilson gave a necktie party, at the Forsyth residence, Abeel-street, Rondout, Tuesday evening.

An "Abendunterhaltung," to be participated in by members of the Rondout Social Maennerchor and their wives or lady friends only, will be held in that society's hall, on Wednesday evening, February 6, and not on February 13, as has been erroneously stated.

Before Recorder Hussey.

This forenoon warrants were issued by Recorder Hussey for the arrest of women named Susan Frank and Ida Hisman, of Rondout, for disorderly conduct. The Frank woman is charged with cutting a woman named Jacklyn with a lamp and the Hisman woman with breaking the panels of a door of a Mrs. Elmendorf.

Men named Charles Wilson, Eugene Williams, John Farrell and Frank White proved to be "four of a kind" in Recorder's Court this afternoon. They were each sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County Jail for stealing a ride on a West Shore Railroad train.

Sporting.

A dispatch to THE FREEMAN from San Francisco says: Jacob Gaudauer and William O'Connor have signed articles for a three-mile scull race in San Francisco Bay on March 3.

THIS CITY'S PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The Regular Weekly Rehearsals Resumed Last Evening—the Music Rendered.

The members of the Kingston Philharmonic Society resumed their regular weekly rehearsals last night at the City Hall, under the leadership of Professor George F. Hulslander, of Boston, who has been engaged to conduct the rehearsals of the Society as heretofore, until the close of the year. There was a fair attendance of members, and all seemed pleased to get to work again.

The Conductor spoke in high terms of the work at the late festival. He said Carl Zerrahn, who was now conceded to be the best oratorio Conductor in this country, had frequently spoken to him since the festival regarding its success. Zerrahn, he said, assured him that he did not often have the good fortune of conducting a chorus where the voices blended so well and where the entire work of the singers was so creditable. Professor Hulslander, continuing, said it would pay to study carefully, and do good work. He believed that if the Society had not been entirely successful financially in this first instance, success would be certain to follow in the future even in that respect, if the singers kept together and continued to study and do good work.

After the singing of a number of choruses the Conductor said he was surprised at the great increase shown in the body of tone since the last rehearsal previous to the festival.

It was resolved by the Society that those who desired to join for the balance of the year could hand in their names with the initiation fee, and their application would be acted upon by the Committee.

Rehearsals will take place on Wednesday night of each week, until further notice.

Music at Theatres.

The following was printed in THE FREEMAN of Monday concerning a performance in Kingston Opera House, Saturday evening.

The waits between the acts were short, the applause was frequent and prolonged, and the music furnished by the orchestra was pleasing. The musicians, however, received "a hint" from the Stage Manager that they will be apt to remember for some time to come. It seems to be the custom here for orchestras to finish the "tune" being played regardless of signals from the Acting Stage Manager to "stop right there." At the end of the third act, on Saturday night, the musicians, in order not to spoil the artistic effect of the rendition of the selection they were playing, did not heed the order of the Stage Manager. Twice the order was repeated, and the third time it was given in a way more forcible than polite. Then the orchestra suddenly stopped. In New-York City theatres the musicians cease playing the moment the signal is given, though they generally regulate the time to give a number so that it will be finished when the curtain is ready to be raised. If leaders in Kingston City would at once start up the music when the curtain falls at the close of an act, instead of dilly-dallying for five minutes or more, the public would be better suited than it now is.

In relation thereto, a letter has been received from Professor Williams, leader of the orchestra. It seems that THE FREEMAN was misinformed, as to the flaring of the lights, hence the orchestra was in no way to blame. This correction is made freely, because it seems to be necessary. There has been no issue raised as to the quality of the music. It is conceded that it is excellent and has been frequently favorably mentioned. Mr. Williams' letter—it would make nearly a column—could not be printed to-day on account of a press of other matter.

CHAT ABOUT ICE AND "ICE MEN."

The Rondout Creek Boomed with Logs—A Large Sum Offered for Ice.

The Rondout Creek has been boomed with logs to keep the ice from floating into the Hudson River.

A firm of ice dealers have been offered $175,000 for 60,000 tons of ice stored in large houses at West Troy. The offer has not been accepted.

A dispatch from Troy to THE FREEMAN, to day, stated: Arrangements have been made to cut ice from Round Lake, for the New-York market. Ice claims have been staked out on Lake Champlain, near Crown Point, for the probable demand from Hudson River ice men.

Educational.

At School No. 8, Kingston, five classes meet "in the hall" for opening exercises, during which one pupil reads, speaks or sings.

The Principal of a Kingston school in reporting to the Kingston Board of Education the work of a new teacher said he gave her instruction to "keep order if you don't do any teaching for a month."

John J. Cooney, as a School Trustee of School District No. 15, Kingston, makes himself useful in a practical way. When there is a fall of snow, he gets out a team and men and scrapes the snow from the road for the distance of a mile, so the children can have a path to walk on.

Fraternal Society Notes.

The new hall of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Kingston, will be dedicated on February 19.

The members of the Bearsville Lodge of Odd Fellows will give an oyster supper in the M. E. Hall, Woodstock, on Tuesday, February 12.

At a regular meeting of Rondout Lodge, No. 730, I. O. G. T., to-morrow evening, the officers for the ensuing quarter will be installed and the new pass-words given to the members.

Mrs. O'Grady Talks to Snapem, Jr.

"Five cents worth of peanuts, Mrs. O'Grady," said Snapem, Jr.

"There they are, my bye, fresh roasted."

"Do they have peanuts in Ireland, Mrs. O'Grady?"

"Illegant wans, bigger nor me thumb."

"Do peanuts grow in Ireland?"

"Faix an' they do. The lord that lived contagint to me fayther's house had a big grove of peanut trees, an' the ground under them trees was covered with peanuts from wan year's end to the other."

What a Lawyer Said.

During the examination of a witness in Surrogate's Court, Kingston, the other day, the examining lawyer was told by his opponent that he was "fishing behind the net." During the same trial one lawyer asked another lawyer to take the stand as a witness, as he wished to ask him a few questions. "I will," said the other promptly, "if you will give me my witness fee, 50 cents. I have been at work a long time in this case, and would like to get a little something out of it."

The Death Record.

The funeral of Patrick McGrath, of Rondout, was held this forenoon.

Captain Isaac Wood died in the town of Newburgh on Monday, aged 93. He won his title of Captain in the war of 1812.

At about 3 o'clock this morning Elizabeth Frey, youngest daughter of David Frey, of Rondout, died at her home on Spring-street. The deceased was a member of the Spring-Street Lutheran Church.

'Long Shore Drift.

The amount raised by subscription for the Troy Soldiers' Monument is $18,000.

Fondness for cigarettes has induced two boys at Newburgh to commit burglary. They have been arrested and held in $200 bail for appearance before the next Grand Jury.

One of the novelties advertised by a Sullivan County hotel keeper is a "circus by home talent." 'Tis said a Poughkeepsie man has been engaged as the "Preceptor General."

Ulster County's Insane.

The Ulster Supervisors' Legislative Committee, composed of Messrs. Woolsey, Craft and A. L. F. Deyo, visited Albany yesterday. The result of that visit was that Senator Linson introduced a bill in the Senate, and Assemblyman Bush a similar bill in the Assembly, to authorize Ulster County to care for its own insane.

A New Steamboat Company.

The Saugerties & New-York Steamboat Company was incorporated on Tuesday. It has a capital of $68,000.

GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE.

THE MISERABLE MAIL SERVICE ALONG THE HUDSON RIVER.

No Attention Paid to Complaints of the Public—Political "Heelers" Substituted for Competent and Trustworthy Clerks—The Facts.

"It might be worse, but not much."

Scores of leading newspapers, Democratic and Republican, in this State are reprinting THE FREEMAN'S criticisms on the present poor mail service along the Hudson River and inland. The strictures of the Hudson Register—a dyed-in-the-wool Democratic organ—fully endorsing THE FREEMAN'S statements, is also being widely copied.

VOICING A GENERAL COMPLAINT.

Portions of the Register's statements are as follows:

"THE KINGSTON FREEMAN voices a complaint that is general when it declares that "the mail service along the Hudson River seems to be steadily growing from bad to worse." THE FREEMAN says that many of its exchanges now a-days reach its office long after they are of interest. And a general shout of endorsement goes up from all the newspaper offices in the Hudson River Valley.—Several Exchanges."

"The complaint made by THE KINGSTON FREEMAN, and echoed by its contemporaries, is well founded, but the worst feature of this defective service is not stated. Subscribers to newspapers along the line of the Hudson River Railroad, within 10 or 20 miles of the point of mailing, very seldom receive their papers with any degree of regularity. Sometimes they double the road twice before being delivered at their destination. For instance, newspaper packages from Hudson to Coxsackie and Steyvesant frequently go through to Syracuse, and are delivered on the return trip. This is extremely annoying even for weekly papers, but it is intolerable when applied to dailies."

THE MAIL SERVICE IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

THE FREEMAN has in past years criticized the mail service, when occasion demanded it, without fear or favor of anybody. At one time the West Shore service under Superintendent Jackson's administration, was all at 'sixes and sevens.' He did not wait months to remedy the matter, nor did he put men in the mail cars whose only recommendation was that they were "political heelers." Every complaint made to Mr. Jackson was promptly investigated, and where a clerk was at fault he was either fined or removed.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH.

THE FREEMAN has no desire to misrepresent Doolittle or anyone else, but in common with other newspapers of standing it is desirous of having its mail handled with reasonable dispatch and care. Mistakes happen everywhere, but the gross carelessness exhibited at present is inexcusable.

Minor Notes Around Town.

Other local on page 3.

Conductor Henry Smith was in Rondout to-day.

The retail price of coal at the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's works here is the same as when winter first begun.

The Kingston City Drum Corps now numbers 29 members. The drummers are becoming proficient in handling the sticks and in drill. It is understood they will give a public parade soon.

Miss Margaret Connelly, of Port-Ewen, and Miss Lulu Cole, of Rondout, were present at the reception and ball given by Palestine Commandery in Metropolitan Opera House, New-York City, Tuesday night.

C. P. Carter, of Kingston, has devised a simple arrangement by means of which amateur photographers can use the flash light to greater advantage than heretofore. The flash light is caused by placing magnesium powder in a small reservoir over an alcohol lamp, so that it will ignite when the bulb of the rubber tube is pressed, blowing the powder into the flame. The important point is to make the flash the instant the bulb is pressed. A failure to do this will result in a poor picture.

The Carnival at Albany.

A dispatch from Albany to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: The mid-winter carnival will be held on Saturday of this week, though the project to erect an immense ice fort will be abandoned, as the ice cannot be secured. The programme has necessarily been shortened. The day will be devoted to skating, curling, bobbing, tobogganing and races, with a parade of the coasting clubs and tobogganers in the early evening followed by a skating carnival on the park lake. The festivities will close with a magnificent display of fireworks in the park, including a representation of the Falls of Niagara. The day will be made a total holiday and the State officers and members of the Legislature will be invited to participate.

About "Cold Cycles."

[From the Hudson Republican.]

A veteran ice cutter between here and Boston is reported as saying that the cold cycles change every five or seven years. The prediction or opinion has been more than verified within the past 30 years. That is to say in 1858 ice was not fit for cutting till the latter part of February, and the season lasted into March; then came the year 1863, five years intervening; then 1870, seven years intervening; then 1874, four years intervening; then 1881, seven years intervening, and now we have the seven years from 1881 to 1888.

On Albany-Avenue, Kingston.

A horseman says that owners of fast horses do not always realize the distance covered in speeding, on Albany-avenue, Kingston. The distance is half a mile. Some men drive up and down, at racing speed, for two hours, almost continuously. They would not think of driving their horses to Stone Ridge at top speed, and yet they cover much more than that distance in two hours on this avenue.

An Ellenville Opinion.

[From the Ellenville Journal.]

We have inadvertently omitted to note sooner the receipt of the "Carriers' Address" of the KINGSTON FREEMAN, a specimen of elegant printing, the title-page bearing a view on the Rondout Creek, showing the West Shore bridge.

A Mid-Winter Trip.

The propeller S. L. Crosby, of the Cornell Steamboat Company's Line, arrived in the Rondout Creek this forenoon, from New-York. It will remain here until spring.

A Poughkeepsie Opinion.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle says the boodlers should be tried in Dutchess County "where even-handed justice sits enthroned with one eye bandaged."

Horse Note.

Superintendent Bradfield, of the West Shore, who resides in this City, is the owner of a Kentucky bred horse. The blood of a famous racer it is said flows in its veins.

Boat Note.

The steam passenger yacht Charles A. Schultz has been taken off its route between Rondout and Eddyville, for the second time this winter.

To Sketch in Mexico.

Artist Jervis McEntee, of Rondout, and Artist E. S. Church, of New-York City, have gone on a sketching tour to Mexico.

Making the Most of the Snow.

Last night a large party from Rondout went to Rosendale for a sleigh ride.

In the County Jail.

There are 36 prisoners in the Ulster County Jail, Kingston.

Pure Blood

Is absolutely necessary in order to have perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier, quickly conquering scrofula, salt rheum and all other insidious enemies which attack the blood and undermine the health. It also builds up the whole system, cures dyspepsia and sick headache, and overcomes that tired feeling.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have been troubled by a scrofulous affection all my life. It is one of the marked recollections of my boyhood days, and for several years has rendered me unable to labor much. ABBOTT, Warren, N. H.

Purifies the Blood.

"I was all run down and unfit for business. I was induced to take a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it built me right up so that I was soon able to resume work. I recommend it to all." D. W. BRATE, 4 Martin-Street, Albany, N. Y.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

One hundred and twenty-four quarts of strawberries were shipped from Jacksonville to New York yesterday. They are described as large and fine, and $5 a quart is the price that will be set upon them when a Gothamite proposes to buy. Less than four months hence a $5 bill will buy two bushels. Wait.

The city of New York paid $1,800 as the legitimate cost of the election machinery by which Thomas F. Grady was elected Senator. Mr. Grady will receive $1,500 for his services. It would have been cheaper to let the Senate fill the vacancy, as is done in Electoral Colleges.

Gen. Harrison's journey to Washington will begin on the afternoon of February 25th. He will go via. the Pennsylvania railroad, by regular train, to which a private car is to be attached. He will arrive at Washington Monday evening, February 25th. This will give him a full week at the capital before the inauguration.

Still the West Virginia Senatorial election hangs fire. Goff and Kenna each received 43 votes yesterday; 46 are needed to elect. One vote went to Fleming, Republican, and three to the Labor candidate. Nobody pretends to guess where these votes will finally be cast. If they go to Goff they will elect him.

Prime Minister Floquet proposes to hold the Cabinet together, and if the Chamber of Deputies gives him a vote of confidence to-day on his plans for dealing with Boulangerism, the Republic will move along as usual. French statesmen who have studied the American system are making the discovery that a Republic has some rights as well as political adventurers.

A caucus of Republican Senators to discuss the admission of the territories was held yesterday morning but adjourned without action. Enough was said, however, to show the Republican Senators opposed to the admission of New Mexico and in favor of the immediate admission of South Dakota, North Dakota, Washington and Montana. The Springer omnibus bill will not pass the Senate, and an extra session of Congress will be called.

There are 400 nominations by the President before the Senate awaiting confirmation. It really looks as though Mr. Cleveland was trying to organize Gen. Harrison's administration. Most of the nominations are in consequence of resignations with the hope of getting another four years' commission before the 4th of March. They are all going to be hung up together in an out-of-the-way corner till inauguration day.

The Cabinet ministers already selected by Gen. Harrison, it is now generally conceded, are Blaine, state Department, Allison, Treasury, Alger, War, and Wanamaker, either Navy or Postoffice. Three places are left—the Interior, Justice, and either the Postoffice or Navy, of which New York still has a chance of getting one. Harrison is evidently anxious to complete his selections, but the claim of New York is still embarrassing him.

The news comes from Indianapolis that the Democratic report of the indictment of Col. Dudley was a lie. An indictment would have been an absurdity and an outrage after the ruling of Judge Woods that no bribery had been committed. The vote to indict Dudley stood 4 to 11, though the jury had been packed with Democrats for the express purpose of finding a bill against him. No witness has yet been found who is willing to swear that he ever received the alleged letter from Dudley.

The Cleary boodle case has been sent to Binghamton for trial. It is a fortunate selection because Broome county jurors believe in justice. The notorious Ruloff was convicted and hanged there after two or three counties had given him trials, and the fellow of the unpronounceable name who killed his New-York sweetheart in Elmira and left her body to freeze in the ice under the bridge also met his quietus in the "Parlor City." Cleary may as well prepare for a trip to Sing Sing unless District Attorney Fellows takes direction of the defense.

Louis Altheimer of Arkansas, a neighbor of the murdered Clayton, visited Gen. Harrison yesterday. He read the news of the murder in the papers on arriving in Indianapolis. When he called on Harrison the conversation turned to Arkansas politics, and he told the President-elect of the murder. The comment of the latter was: "This is dreadful; I have heard of nothing so shocking since Garfield's assassination. And then he added and several times repeated the declaration: "This thing must be stopped." Those who know Gen. Harrison intimately think he will find a way to stop it.

While the thirteenth district has elected a Democratic Senator, the fact that Sullivan county has cast a Republican majority in this unimportant contest should not be lost sight of. Sullivan not long ago was reckoned as one of the staunchest of Democratic counties. It gave Mr. Cleveland 275 majority in 1884, Gov. Hill 188 in 1885, Judge Peckham 208 in 1886, and Secretary Cook 187 in 1887. In November last it went over to the Republicans for the first time with a majority of 103 for Harrison and Morton, though Hill carried it again by 53. Orange is reliably Republican; it has not given a Democratic majority for the head of the ticket since 1882. The result on Tuesday last was an accident which cannot happen again.

Speak softly, all who are not pleased with the murder of young Clayton in Arkansas, and the vacation of his claim to a seat in Congress. Democratic papers are already denouncing public disapproval of the act as a waving of the bloody shirt. The Southern heart must not be wantonly fired, or its political methods condemned because they differ from those of the North. Clayton knew Democratic opinion of Republican candidates in his state, and its sharp and startling varieties of expression. Democratic opinion seems to agree that he was very imprudent, and impudently challenged the fate that he has met. Democratic solidity in the South will never be disturbed after Republicans have learned how dangerous it is to run for office by a few such object lessons as the one given in Plummerville last Tuesday night.

GENERAL TELEGRAPH NEWS

The Gist of the News at Home and Abroad This Day by Telegraph and by Cable.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—It was reported this morning that the Broadway road had secured 700 men in Philadelphia who were to be placed on the cars to-day. This was expected to make serious trouble.

THE RESOLVES OF THE MEN.

The representatives of all the local assemblies met last night. The men were unanimous in their decision to continue the strike until they are recognized by the companies,

WHAT THE STRIKE COSTS.

There was no material change in the situation this forenoon. The two days' stoppage of the cars has cost the strikers $20,000 and the stockholders of the roads $50,000. To-day the Belt Line and the Broadway Line, which have not had a car on the road since the tie-up, made arrangements to run cars over their routes,

NO LAWLESSNESS LAST NIGHT.

Quietness reigned at all the east and west side stables during the night, but each stable was guarded by the police.

MEN ANXIOUS TO WORK.

Many applications for work were made at the Sixth-avenue stables this morning. The applicants were nearly all green hands. But few of the strikers have made applications for work so far. It was said that over 500 applicants had asked to be put to work.

WHAT TWO ROADS WILL DO.

The Eighth and Ninth-avenue Roads will await the result of efforts to run cars elsewhere before doing anything.

STRIKERS "FIGHTING DRUNK."

On the Belt Line the men threatened this morning to throw the first car into the River with all on board. Many of the men have become "fighting drunk."

POLICEMEN ON EACH CAR.

The first of the Twenty-Third-street cars was started at 7:15 o'clock. There were four policemen on each car.

The Sixth-avenue road started its cars at 8:24 o'clock with six policemen on each car. Inspector Williams, with 134 men and four Sergeants and four Roundsmen, were in charge of the depot.

The Fourth-avenue road begun its day's work at 8:30 o'clock. The Third-avenue line was running as usual.

TO GUARD AN ARSENAL.

On account of a rumor that an attack was being arranged by the strikers for the purpose of securing arms from the State Arsenal at Seventh-avenue and Thirty-fifth-street, a squad of 20 men from the Second Battery were detailed under Lieutenant Pasco to watch the Arsenal until the strike is ended. A detail of 10 men has also been placed in charge of the Armory of the Second Battery to protect the Gattling guns that are kept there.

ON THE SIXTH-AVENUE ROAD.

The first car on the Sixth avenue road started quietly. It received very little attention from the strikers.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES MAINTAINED.

Inspector Steers and 150 men were at the Broadway depot ready to protect any cars that might be sent out. This company expected to run about a dozen cars this afternoon. The same reserve force was kept at police headquarters as yesterday and the same general police precautions were maintained. The Third-avenue cars were running so nicely that only one policeman was kept on each car.

AN EFFIGY SET ON FIRE.

A little excitement was caused by the suspension of an effigy from the fire-escape of a tenement house near the Broadway and Seventh-Avenue depot at 9 o'clock. After a crowd had collected it was set fire to. Inspector Steers had it taken down.

REGULAR TRIPS MADE.

The Twenty-Third-street line had its regular number of cars running at 10 o'clock.

MEN WHO MAY RETURN TO WORK.

It was rumored that the Eighth-avenue men would probably return to work. The Superintendent is willing to treat with them individually.

At 10 o'clock the first Broadway car was started. Inspector Steers scattered his men on both sides of Broadway as far down as Forty-Second-street but they had nothing to do but to watch the car as it proceeded down town. The strikers paid no attention to it.

BACKBONE OF STRIKE BROKEN.

Inspector Byrnes expresses the opinion that the backbone of the strike is broken. The managers of the companies declare they will make no concessions to the strikers. They have all the men they want, and will only take the best of the old hands back and under pledge of disassociation from the Unions.

STRIKERS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

A number of strikers were arraigned in the Police Courts this forenoon, charged with breaches of the peace. Three of them were sent to prison for a month, several were held for trial on serious charges and some were fined.

THE POLICE ACTIVE.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock five cars started on the Broadway line. The police kept the strikers governed so that they had no chance to interfere with the cars. Four policemen were on each car. The strikers made no demonstration beyond derisive yells at the drivers and conductors. The cars picked up about half-a-dozen passengers. The drivers and conductors were all green hands. After the successful trip of the cars the applicants for work at the office grew very numerous. All were taken on. These five cars will make three trips and will then be housed for the night.

A MOB TEARING UP RAILS.

About 2 o'clock 3,000 strikers assembled at the Belt line station. A large force of police was on hand. The mob will try to prevent a car being run by the Belt Line. The latest advices say they have begun to tear up the tracks in Thirty-Seventh-street, and the police intend to charge them.

ANOTHER MOB AT WORK.

Word has been received at Police Headquarters that a mob was gathering at the corner of Fifty-Ninth-street and Tenth-avenue, obstructing the tracks and threatening to tear them up.

THE STRIKE IN BROOKLYN.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 31.—The Atlantic-Avenue Railroad Company decided to start its cars on the Fifth-avenue line to-day. Policemen were stationed along the entire route.

MOBS ON ATLANTIC AVENUE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The latest news from the strike in Brooklyn shows that several mobs gathered when the Atlantic-Avenue car went over the road this morning. The police charged into the crowd and cracked the heads of half-a-dozen disorderly men. A brick was thrown from a roof and went through the top of the car. Another crashed through the windows. William J. Richardson, son of "the Deacon" and the Secretary of the Company, rode on the front platform of the car surrounded by policemen. One of the horses became unruly and kicked Richardson on the leg. It is said the Company will make efforts to run two more cars to-day.

A CAR TAKEN OFF THE TRACK.

A car was taken over the Fifth-avenue road at 8:30 A. M., under the escort of 36 mounted policemen. The cavalcade moved at a steady trot all the way. Crowds of people lined the streets, but there was no interference.

A RIOT LOOKED FOR.

The police are maddened at the resistance of the mob, and hot fighting is expected this afternoon. The strikers say they will die on the rails before they will see another car go through. The streets were packed with people, and there was great excitement.

AT THE OLD RATES.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, Jan. 31.—The conductors of the Glens Falls, Sandy Hill and Fort Edward Street Railway, who struck Tuesday on account of a reduction in wages, have returned to work at the old rates. The Directors state that the reduction was unauthorized.

A STRIKE ENDED.

NEW-YORK, Jan. 31.—The strike of the Cuban cigar makers has ended in a victory for the workmen.

Magistrates Refuse to State Case Against O'Brien of Suit for Libel.

By Cable to The Freeman.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The magistrates who tried William O'Brien refuse to state the case against him for the opinion of the Court of Exchequer on the ground that the demand is frivolous. Mr. Healy, counsel for O'Brien, will apply to the higher courts for an order compelling the magistrate to comply with his client's demand. O'Brien has been served with a writ in a suit brought by Magistrate Stokes, who claims £10,000 damages for alleged libelous statements in O'Brien's paper.

O'BRIEN FIGHTS HIS KEEPERS.

William O'Brien was, to-day, lodged in the Clonmel Jail to undergo the sentence of four months' imprisonment imposed on him. When ordered to remove his clothing and don the prison garb he refused, whereupon he was seized by warders and his clothing was forcibly removed. His beard was then shaved off. He made a desperate resistance and was exhausted by the struggle. His prostration was so severe that a priest was summoned.

Action of the Republican Senators at a Caucus Held To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Republican Senators to-day in caucus adopted a resolution to insist upon the admission as states of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington. There was a lack of unanimity in regard to New-Mexico. It was urged, and the argument appeared to meet with the approval of a majority of the Senators present, that owing to peculiarities of the people of New-Mexico the Territory was not yet fitted for admission. The final decision of the caucus was that the Committee on Territories should frame a substitute for the House bill that should be so broad in policy and fair in terms that its rejection by the House would saddle that body with an unpleasant responsibility to the people of the West.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Indications for Friday: Rain, threatening weather, followed by warmer, southerly winds.

ONE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST SETTLED.

The contest in the Second Congressional district of Arkansas has been settled in favor of Hon. Clifton R. Breckinridge, the Democratic candidate and present member. It was settled in the old-fashioned way, and of tourse decisively. The Republican contestant was Hon. John M. Clayton, a gentleman long distinguished in the politics of the South and a brother of ex-Senator Powell Clayton. Mr. Clayton was visiting Plummerville, in the Republican county of Conway, for the purpose of taking depositions in relation to the stealing of the ballot box of the Plummerville precinct, which contained a Republican majority of 500 votes. Up to last Tuesday night about 100 depositions had been taken favorable to his case. He was stopping at a boarding house, and had been assigned for the night to a room containing several beds, to be occupied by himself, his notary, and some strangers. The notary was at work at a table near an open window, and Clayton, who had been pacing the room nervously, was in the act of sitting down when a loud report was heard. The light went out, and Clayton fell heavily to the floor. It was at first thought that the lamp had exploded and stunned him, but a commercial traveler who was in the room soon exclaimed that some one had fired through the window and killed him. A match was struck, and Clayton was found lying dead on the floor with the blood pouring from a wound in his neck. He had been killed by a load of buckshot, fifteen of which had lodged in his neck, while several passed through, tearing a hole in the throat large enough to admit a man's fist, breaking the neck and severing all the arteries from the brain to the heart. A pistol was found just outside of the window, but it was loaded full, and is not the weapon with which the murder was committed. A hunt for the assassin was unsuccessful. The Arkansas Legislature, however, is considering a bill to offer a reward of $5,000, and will probably pass it after he has had abundant time to get away.

Col. Breckinridge is in Washington, and it is not probable that he will be identified with the murder. He expressed great surprise when he received the news, which was promptly communicated to him in a telegram by a political friend in his district. He does not attempt, however, to ascribe the crime to any other motive than politics, and thinks that if the men who stole the Plummerville ballot box in November were Democrats, "they may have killed Clayton in order to prevent discovery and escape punishment." Breckinridge thought he was sure of the election anyway, as a majority of 846 was returned for him, while the Republican majority in Plummerville could not have exceeded 450 or 500. But Clayton had recently asserted his ability to prove that his majority would be 1,000 or more, and this fact, together with the knowledge that a Republican House would make the decision of the case, left the partisans of Breckinridge no alternative but murder.

When the Democratic party in several states supposed it had reduced the Republican majority in the House to a single vote, the papers of that party all over the country advised the Republicans against over-confidence, suggesting that the contingency of death would be likely to shift the preponderance. It will be observed that the work of death has begun, and that it counts to the benefit of the Democracy. Col. Breckinridge will have no contestant to dispute his rights. The suggestion is made that the House investigate the election in the district very thoroughly, and that if proof of the election of Breckinridge by fraud is obtained, his seat be declared vacant. But this would only necessitate another election, and probably put in peril another life. Republicans in the district will do well to curb their ambition to sit in Congress hereafter. The "Arkansas plan" overshadows the "Mississippi plan." By the former the work is postponed till after the election is over, when the removal of a single life suffices. The "Mississippi plan" was to fight Republicans away from the polls, and murder by wholesale was one of the frequent results.

THE EXCISE COMMISSION BILL.

The "high license" bill of the Excise Revision Commission was roughly handled before the Assembly Excise Committee yesterday. At the opening of the debate Mr. Gallup exhibited the following letter from Hon. Warner Miller:

FIFTH-AVENUE HOTEL, NEW-YORK, Jan. 25, 1889.
To the Hon. W. H. Gallup:

MY DEAR SIR: I have yours of yesterday. I consider the Excise bill now before the Legislature a great mistake. If our party consents to a rate of license lower than that of last winter, it will be defeated. We must keep our pledges made in the late campaign if we would hold the respect and support of the temperance people. WARNER MILLER.

Rev. James H. Ecob, a prominent pastor of Albany, denounced the bill and pointed out several defects. A very serious one was the provision that the warnings to liquor sellers not to sell to drunkards must be in writing. How was the poor washerwoman, who perhaps could not write at all, to serve these notices upon all the long rows of saloons which her husband visits in his drinking bouts? He condemned the provision which merely says that liquor shall not be sold on Sunday. The Law and Order League to which he belonged had failed to convict for Sunday selling because the liquor sellers went into court and swore that they sold cold tea. He wanted high license, but in the bill the minimum fees were far too low. The passage of the bill would check for ten years the healthful agitation now in progress in the state against liquor selling. His party, the Republican party, had given him a pledge that a high license bill would be passed.

Frank Moss, Secretary of the Republican Anti-Saloon League, pointed out that the bill permitted the sale of liquor all night. A section permitted the bar-tenders to sell at times when the owners were forbidden to do so. Another section clearly permitted the sale of liquor to minors. He thought that if Excise Boards were given discretion in granting licenses, they should also have discretion in revoking them. The bill destroyed many excellent features of the present excise law. Recorder Hessburg of Albany and W. W. Smith of Poughkeepsie, candidate of the Prohibition party for State Treasurer in 1887, also spoke against the bill. Another hearing will be given next week. It is apparent that the bill cannot pass except by the aid of Democratic votes. Will Gov. Hill permit this, or will he sign it if it is thus passed?

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN GAIN IN CONGRESS.

In the first district of Indiana, at the November election, William F. Parrot was the Democratic and Frank B. Posey the Republican candidate. Parrot claimed the election by 20 majority, and Gov. Gray granted him the certificate. Posey claimed fraud, and had given notice of a contest, when Gen. Hovey, the Republican Representative in the fiftieth Congress, resigned to take the office of Governor. Parrott, fearing the effect of a contest in the House, proposed to Posey that they run against each other for the vacancy to be filled till the 4th of March, and to let the result settle the contest for the seat in the fifty-first Congress. This was agreed to, and the election took place yesterday. Full returns are not all in, but enough are received to assure the election of Posey by at least 500 majority; it may go to 1,000. If Parrott keeps his agreement the Republican majority in the next House already reaches 9. There is little doubt of Democratic frauds in November, for the district is Republican and gave Gen. Hovey 1,355 majority for Congress in 1886.

PUBLIC OPINION.

If the information of a London newspaper is trustworthy, Lord Sackville has secured another job. He is to go to Constantinople, succeeding the present embassador there. As popular elections have not yet been introduced in Turkey, this appointment reduces the danger of his lordship being Murchisonized a second time to a minimum.—Hartford Courant.

The Every Evening of Wilmington, Del., intimates that the "hostile Senate" is to blame for the Samoan difficulty. This will not do. The trouble is that if you put a tattered gown, an old shawl and a sun bonnet on Secretary Bayard he would look quite natural, and Bismarck knows it.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

The United States government, through the Commissioner of the Land Office, is offering an official map of the country for sale at cost. This would be a nice offer on the government's part were it not for the fact that the map of the country will have to be recast after the proposed new states are admitted. Appearances are that the government is trying to push the sale of a stock that will soon be worthless.—Troy Press.

Let's see—a year ago it was a condition not a theory that confronted us, and now that the Senate tariff bill offers a chance to reduce the surplus to the extent of $70,000,000 per annum, the Democratic party in the House of Representatives proposes to pigeon-hole the bill and let the "condition" take care of itself. That is a pretty meager result for such a tremendous "campaign of education."—Springfield Union.

The death of Owen Brown, son of old John Brown of Ossawattomie and of Harper's Ferry immortality, takes from earth the last survivor of those who participated in the old hero's wonderful assault upon the institution of slavery. Owen was 74 years old when he died, and this gives us a startling idea of the age of his venerable mother, who is still alive. The widow of John Brown is to-day one of the most interesting and pathetic characters on the Western Continent.—Ohio State Journal.

Hon. Amos J. Cummings likens the log rolling for the river and harbor bill in Congress to the scheme of Flavius Josephus, who used to pay from the public treasury of Galilee to the robbers such sum of money as he thought they would steal every year, and he thus kept peace in his province. Mr. Cummings is a statesman as well as a journalist.—Boston Herald.

It would be difficult to make Cleveland believe it, but the fact remains that his defeat was a blessing to him. Four years more and no one could have been blind to his littleness and incapacity; as it is there are a few whose faith in his greatness will probably never be shaken.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

DIDN'T WANT A GIRL.

Last summer my wife's health was all run down, and she wanted me to hire a girl to do the work. In a little while I found one I thought would suit her, when to my surprise she said I need not hire any one, as she felt much better, and thought another bottle of Sulphur Bitters would cure her. Donald Gray, 41 Worcester-Square, Boston.

THOSE WHOSE BUSINESS

Oblige them to travel, and who labor more or less under Chronic, Consumptive, or Bronchial Coughs, should not fail to carry with them a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam, taking it occasionally in small doses as they may feel the need. The cough will abate almost on the instant, and the breathing and expectoration become more easy and free. It soothes any sense of irritation that may exist, subdues inflammation or soreness in the lungs, throat and air passages, and prevents attacks which are always embarrassing, and may prove serious during an absence from home. No other preparation offered to the public possesses anything like the power of this one over these common and dangerous complaints. Dr. Kennedy, whose high standing in the profession is well known, strongly recommends it from the standpoint of a physician—a fact to which the people will attach the importance it demands.

It is the one medicine above all others to cure catarrh, and it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God I have found a remedy I can use with safety and that does all that is claimed for it. Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, perserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—Rev. S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Rernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt Spofford, Texas

★ BRIGHT'S DISEASE. ★

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1888, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen, she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequellas of the most obstinate and dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use

IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY

LETTER FROM ELLENBURGH BY A FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS CITY.

A City which Expects to be the Capital of A New State—Gold Found on Building Lots on the Principal Streets.

E. M. Brigham, Jr., a former resident of this City, now of Ellenburgh, Kittitas County, Washington Territory, writes as follows under date of January 26, to THE FREEMAN:

SOME INTERESTING DATA.

"So many letters are received here asking about this portion of the country that I believe something in reference to Ellenburgh and vicinity will be of interest to readers of THE FREEMAN."

WHAT ONE MAN HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

"In 1875 John A. Shoudy and family left the then new city of Seattle, on Puget Sound, with a big pack train laded with merchandise, looking for a good location to trade with Indians, and the then few whites left here by the Hudson Bay Company. They left Seattle on a Wednesday morning, some time in July, 1875, and after 24 days' hard driving Mr. Shoudy arrived in the Kittitas Valley. He rode around for a week or more looking for a suitable place to build himself a log hut, and at last settled on what is now called 'Shoudy's Place,' a little hill not many feet from the Northern Pacific Railroad depot of today. Mr. Shoudy traded his stock about all out with Indians and whites, and then, in January of 1876, started back to Seattle to 'lay in' a new stock. Being well pleased with the valley and its farming lands he called together, while in Seattle, some of his old friends and made up a party of six families to come to Kittitas Valley and settle. In 1878 Mr. Shoudy had surveyed a town site just east of his trading post and sent to Puget Sound for families to come and locate homes for themselves. Twenty-eight people responded. He called his post "Ellen's Post," after his wife and from that the people named their settlement Ellenburgh. At this time Ellenburgh had only 50 citizens, the rest of the people having settled on ranches around about the valley. To-day, after 11 years have rolled by, Ellenburgh and the Kittitas Valley have over 22,000 inhabitants and still more keep coming."

A REMARKABLE GROWTH.

"Ellenburgh has more than doubled itself in the last year on account of it being the nearest railroad city for the new country just being settled in what is called the 'Big Bend of the Columbia River' and the Conconnolly Mining Camp. Kittitas Valley is abundant in minerals, such as coal, iron, gold and copper, which are now being uncovered for the first time. Two weeks or more ago on the main street some workmen, when digging a trench to lay sewer pipe, came to a ledge of rocks and in that ledge was found small nuggets of A No. 1 gold. It set the town wild and lots in blocks on both sides of the street where gold was found jumped from $75 per lot to $300 per lot of 120 feet deep by 60 feet front. All around through the valley can be found just such streaks of some mineral."

IDLERS NOT WANTED.

"But Ellenburgh itself is the City that when we are admitted into the Union of States will be the Capital city. I can look down Pearl-street at this moment and see hundreds hurrying to and fro. No idle men—everybody who wishes to work can work and idlers cannot stay. If they do not work for wages they are put on the chain gang to fix streets, thus keeping tramps and idlers out of the way. One year ago I first set foot in Ellenburgh to make it my home, and at that time out of 782 buildings there was but one brick building; to-day the place has 12 brick blocks costing in total $1,028,645.72.

WHAT BANKERS HAVE DONE.

"Benjamin E. Snipes & Co., private bankers, have just finished a 'Mineral Stone Bank Building' costing $52,000. B. E. Snipes & Co. are the richest bankers in the Territory, having a capital of $1,500,000. But I must stop for this time. I would like to hear from my old friends in Kingston and Ulster County who think of seeking the West for homes and a fortune and will give them every bit of information I can."

Highland Notes.

The building of car sheds, near the Hasbrouck farm, will soon be begun.

NOTES ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

What a Number of Brainy Men Find to Write About in Two Magazines.

Opinions about articles in two magazines follow:

THE "FORUM" FOR FEBRUARY.

In the February number of the Forum an important enterprise is begun. W. S. Lilly, a distinguished English essayist and perhaps the ablest opponent of the application of the evolutionist doctrine to morals, undertakes to point out that civilization, especially Anglo-Saxon civilization, is suffering from a weakening of the moral idea; and in articles to follow he proposes to show specifically how the ethical standard has been lowered in art, in politics, in journalism and in other important lines of activity. These essays will constitute an inquiry into the moral force of our civilization as compared with the past. Judge Alfred Conkling Coxe, of the U. S. District Bench, proposes a simple plan for the relief of the U. S. Supreme Court—a plan that requires no important legislation, but is within the reach of the court itself. The statistics of the court's work and many interesting facts about its history and about the work of courts in general are incorporated in the article. Prof. Henry Wade Rogers, Dean of the Law Department of the University of Michigan, after narrating the history of International Extradition Treaties, points out the necessity of a new treaty with Great Britian, the present one being but a legal encouragement to theft. Other subjects of political importance discussed in this number are "Obstacles to Annexation with Canada;" by the Marquis of Lorne, who, in a tone exceedingly friendly to the United States, points out what he regards as the practical disadvantages to both countries of political annexation; and "Shall Negro Majorities Rule?" by Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who tells why he regards the negro problem as a race problem pure and simple, which legislation cannot change, and the future of which is surrounded by many dangers. Edward Atkinson, dealing with several "Reforms that do not Reform," shows with great fullness of illustration why he thinks the Henry George land-tax theory would cause a monopoly of land. This article contains interesting, sharp criticisms of many economic theories, and shows the instability of the investments and enterprises that are supposed to be the most stable. The Rev. C. M. Morse, who shows a leaning towards the George doctrine, explains how the churches may regain the sympathy of the working classes. His narrative of the change that the rise of an aristocracy of wealth has wrought in the churches is interesting.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Everything. "Sardines in olive oil" sell readily as disguised Eastport herring in cottonseed oil. "Ocean trout" and "Alaska mackerel" are considered far superior to the common menhaden from which they spring. "Pickled whitefish" are much more satisfactory to the imagination than the weakfish which represent them in the market. "Cod steaks" sound promising even when cut from the savage wolffish. "Kennebec salmon" are always in demand whether from Maine or in the guise of redfish and steelhead from Oregon. It is, therefore, with little surprise that we hear just at this time of the wonderful dinners provided by a celebrated restaurateur in Washington with "young halibut" from Norfolk as the chief attraction transformed and idealized from the homely and humble winter flatfish, which has approached our shores, not to thrill epicures, but to deposit its eggs peacefully. We are reminded of a circumstance in a noted coffee house in Melbourne a few years ago which created a great deal of excitement. The proprietor introduced a fish of surprising sweetness and delicacy of flavor, under the name of "Sweet William." His patrons eagerly devoured "Sweet William" and the fish had a tremendous run. It was tender, juicy, and entirely free from bones. All went swimmingly for a time. Inquiries failed to reveal the name of the new favorite until one luckless day somebody saw a barrelful of young sharks go into the establishment, to be translated into "Sweet William." Then the volume of business suddenly shrunk and the air was black with threats of suits for damages by enraged customers. And so—what's in a name?—Forest and Stream.

Insane Patients Given an Outing.

[From the Newburgh News.]

Of all the novel sleigh rides occasioned by the recent snow, Middletown can boast of the most original. A few days since the inmates of the Insane Asylum, at that place were treated to a glide over the "beautiful." A stranger in the City, as he looked at the bright and apparently happy faces of the occupants of the sleighs, would not for a moment suspect that they were inmates of an Insane Asylum.

A "Few Corrections."

John McElhone, of Ellenville, has sold his Sam's Point property, including the Lond Pond, for $47,000.—Gardiner Weekly.

John McElhone never owned the "Sam's Point property." It does not "include Long Pond," nor come within miles of it, and Mr. McElhone has not sold any property for "$47,000." With these trifling exceptions the item quoted is correct.—Ellenville Journal.

SHIP ROCK TERRACE FOUND

IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE ON THE OCEAN'S BOTTOM.

Sailed From New-York City on September 22, 1887, With a Cargo of Oil and Phosphate of Lime Valued at $125,000—The Facts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—Information has reached this City that the long missed clipper ship Rock Terrace, which was supposed to have gone down a year ago while bound to Japan, has drifted into the Gilbert group of Islands in a sound condition, and with only a few inches of water in its hold. The Rock Terrace sailed from the Standard Oil works here on September 22, 1887, for Hiogo, Japan, with a cargo of oil and phosphate lime valued at $125,000. When near the Phillipine Islands Captain Atkinson, for some unexplained reason, but it is believed through trouble with his crew, left his vessel and landed on an island near which the vessel happened to be passing and left it to its fate.

CROWN PRINCE RUDOLPH'S DEATH.

He Went on a Hunting Expedition the Day Before, it is Stated.

By Cable to The Freeman.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—Crown Prince Rudolph left Vienna Monday in a court carriage for Breintenfurth, where a cab was to convey him to Meyerling. The Crown Prince, however, preferred to walk and did not use the cab. During the walk he conversed cheerfully with those who accompanied him. On Tuesday the Crown Prince and his friends went on a hunting expedition. Upon the return of the party the Crown Prince complained of a headache and retired to his room. He sent a telegram to the Palace at Vienna stating that he would be unable to attend the Imperial dinner which was to be given that evening, and wrote several letters in his own room. Wednesday morning he awoke before 7 o'clock and summoned his old servant Johann, to whom he gave an order to have his breakfast served at 7:30. At the appointed time his valet carried his breakfast to the room, and was horrified to find the Crown Prince dead in his bed. The remains were brought to Vienna this morning. A large crowd surrounded the station in this City when the train arrived. The most profound silence reigned. The station itself had been filled with people, but they quietly withdrew when requested to do so by the guards.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Vienna correspondent of the British Medical Journal, states that the death of Crown Prince Rudolph, was caused by a rupture of the cardiac walls, with an effusion into the pericardium.

"There are moments when silence prolonged and unbroken
More expressive may be than all words ever spoken."

Look at that wan and wasted woman, once the picture of health, now so pallid. She cannot begin to tell her sufferings, but as from day to day she goes through the house, attending to her many cares, her attenuated form, her white face, her stooping shoulders, her pinched features, all tell that she is a silent martyr to disease. Her once cherry voice is seldom heard, but her silence tells her sufferings more than words can do. O! ye silent, sorrowing, suffering, sisters, there is a cure for your troubles; Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign remedy for the derangements and maladies peculiar to your sex. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, sewstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, "Favorite Prescription" is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

NOTIC

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME.

THE TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF A WORTHY INSTITUTION.

What has Been Done and What the Organization Hopes to Do in the Future—Interesting Facts and Figures—More Money Needed.

He confers a kindness who gives quickly.—Publius Syrus.

The Industrial Home of this City is a worthy institution, doing a good work. The twelfth annual report, furnished by the Managers, follows:

A RETROSPECTIVE GLANCE.

"Twelve years ago, at this season, the newly-appointed Managers of the Home, which had been formally organized in the previous December, were struggling to raise by subscriptions the means for its maintenance. The numerous snow storms of that winter, the cold and slush through which we plodded, our many discouragements and the cordial help that rejoiced our hearts, all are fresh in our memories. There was need of prompt action, for the children in our City Alms House, in violation of State law, were waiting there for the promised opening of the Home. Many more were being sent at heavy cost to the County from the New Paltz Poor-House to a remote institution. Numbers were growing up in the streets to vagrancy and vice; and two old people, afterwards received as inmates, were supported in a precarious way, dependent upon private charity. On the other hand, the Managers had firmly resolved to take no farther step towards meeting these demands until the support of the Home for at least one year was insured. This plan was adhered to; the necessary amount raised, largely in annual subscriptions, and the work was fully entered upon in the following spring. Since then it has gone steadily on, until we give, to-day, our twelfth annual report."

IN THE HOME THE PAST YEAR.

"The Home has had in charge since our last report 70 children, 25 of whom have been received during the year. Nine have been returned to parents or guardians, 19 have found homes in reliable families where they are doing well. Fifty so placed have been visited this year, with very satisfactory results, and many more heard from. Thirty-nine are now in charge of the Home. In June, two Managers, with one of the Assistant Matrons, took 12 children a day's journey into the country to ask for invitations for "summer visits" for the little ones. Careful inquiries had been made in advance as to whether we should apply, and although entirely unexpected, the whole party was kindly welcomed by the various families upon whom calls were made. All the children remained in that neighborhood to visit, two additional ones were sent later in the season and five are still there. After arranging this matter, the Managers went on to visit a number of children adopted at different times during the several years past. It was delightful to see the sturdy, healthy, bright boys bounding over the hills, full of happiness in their homes; to see the prizes they had gained, their pet animals, etc. Cordial as was the hospitality shown the Managers "for their work's sake" the sight of the children was even more enjoyable."

A BOY'S LETTER.

"'In one case a change seemed advisable. The Board of Managers decided, after hearing the report of the Visiting Committee, to remove the lad to a new home, from which he writes as follows:

"'DEAR MISS F.—I received your letter and will answer your questions. You want to know if I am a good boy. Sometimes I am and other times, Mrs. Wood says, I am very troublesome. I cut wood and do chores. I sometimes do as I am told and other times I do as I please, and they do not like it. I go to church with the family and sit with them but they do not stay to Sunday School, so I have not been yet. It is two miles we have to go to church so if I stayed I should have to walk home. I study the catechism at home.'" "'Yours truly,'" "'A. A. D.'"

A LETTER FROM A GIRL.

"We give another letter from a girl who has been two years in the place from which she writes:"

"'DEAR SISTER:—I am getting along very good, and am glad to get your letter, and to know that you are well and have a good house too. I go to school and like it very much, and we have a good many scholars and the girl I sit with is Ella W. We had a big snow storm on Sunday. We have two little calves, one has a white face. We have three cats, two is black and white and one is gray. I have not forgot you and was glad to hear that you had not forgot me. I want to see you very much and hope to see you again. I was glad to see Miss T. when she came and to hear how you was getting along. We have a little girl seven years old. We have fun playing "hide and seek." I like it very much. I hope you are learning a good deal. I am writing this all myself. I will be glad when summer comes, for I don't like winter as I do summer. I am in the Third Reader and spelling book. I have to learn tables to say in my class. I will stop now because I cannot think of anything more to say. Yours truly, from your sister, your loving sister.'" "'T.'"

A FOSTER MOTHER'S LETTER.

"A foster mother writes of a boy taken a few months since:"

"'DEAR FRIEND—After a long silence I thought I would write you these few lines to let you know that we are all well, hoping you are the same. R—is growing to be a fine, big boy, and he is as good as he can be. I would like you to write and let me know when his birthday comes off. I was asking him would n't he like little Harry with him. He said little Harry could n't have any part of his mamma and papa. F—was here yesterday. She is well. R—says he expects Santa Claus about Christmas. He says his prayers and sings his little hymns the same as usual. I remain yours very truly.'" "'A. F.'"

SUMMER JAUNTS.

"Late in the summer many invitations came from other sections, especially Wallkill, and other children went out to visit, have fresh air, a healthful change and a kind welcome. Twenty-five in all were so fortunate and those who returned showed marked improvement in health and vigor, and had many tales to tell of their country life. This lessening of the family at the Home during the hot weather was a great boon in many ways."

THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

"Thanksgiving and Christmas brought added testimony to a growing interest in the work of the Home, in bountiful gifts not only from this City and its immediate vicinity but from various sections of the County. These made the Matrons and Managers as happy as were the children and old ladies who received them. At New Year, a box came from the Girls' Friendly Society, of Saugerties, which gave much gratification."

BUT LITTLE ILLNESS.

"We gratefully record, as a special mercy that during the entire year there has been very little sickness and no epidemic. Two children have died, one immediately after admission, the other a constitutionally feeble and delicate child. Mrs. Green, the oldest inmate of the Home, now in her eighty-seventh year, had a long time of sickness and prostration, but is again nearly in her usual health. Mrs. Howe, though failing in strength, has been able to assist in her support, as heretofore, by sewing. Mrs. Kugler has found friends in Bridgeport, Conn., with whom she has spent many months very happily and in improved health."

KIND WORDS FOR THE MATRON.

"In our record of mercies, we must express our appreciation for the faithful, unfailing interest and efforts of Miss Ester, the Matron, and her assistants. With added experience in the work, they show constantly increased ability to perform it, and ever deepening interest

RETURNING THANKS.

"It is impossible to adequately express our thankfulness for the willing hearts and helping hands that have sustained the Home during all these years. Annual subscriptions sometimes called 'our sheet-anchor' have in most instances been steadily kept up. They have ranged from a fraction of a dollar to $25, $50 or $100 from each subscriber, every offering being valued and welcome. We speak now of the regular yearly support. Beyond this, donations and legacies have come in just when most needed to meet special demands. Gifts of all kinds, new and partly worn clothing, fish, fruit and vegetables, meat, poultry, milk, every description of provisions—have greatly lessened our money outlay—while personal care and responsibility has in some instances lessened our labors as well. The kindly transportation of the inmates of the Home by the boats and railways of Ulster County, the free use of express and telephone, the services of lawyers and physicians without any fees; work given from time to time by mechanics and others, the privilege of using the various newspapers of the County, all have been invaluable. We must not fail to mention in this connection the hearty efforts of one lady in Kingston, who has interested a band of competent workers in sewing and quilting for the Home. In Saugerties, Woodstock and Wallkill, similar work has been done by other good friends of the cause. All these, and innumerable other acts of kindness have gladdened our hearts, upheld our hands."

CONCERNING CERTAIN MONEYS.

"It may be asked: 'What of the money paid by City and County for children's board?' This is an important source of revenue but could by no means meet necessary expenses, for some children are not paid for in this way, and in any case the charge is purposely made so low as to cover only the cost of board, leaving no provision for clothing, salaries of care-takers, repairs to property, etc. The weekly amount was made so small in order that there be no question of anything like money-making through the income from public funds. Consequently, some of our heaviest expenses have to be met by private contributions."

A DEATH AND A RESIGNATION.

"Just after the annual meeting of last year Captain Jacob H. Tremper, a faithful friend and Trustee was removed from among us. He had had special charge of alterations and enlargement of the building and had given it much time and thought, being always ready when needed for this work. Another loss has been sustained in the resignation of Miss S. M. VanVleck, consequent upon her removal to another city. As one and another are taken from association with this work, we earnestly ask that others, especially the young ladies of Kingston and Ulster County, will acquaint themselves with what the Home is doing and in the varied ways that are possible 'lend a hand.' Here we would suggest a plan, common in other places, of a 'Young Ladies' Auxiliary.' Such a society in Newark, N. J., is responsible for the entire sewing of a large orphan asylum. Will not our young people, either unitedly or in connection with their different churches, organize for this purpose and assume some charge of an enterprise that before many years will devolve wholly upon their fostering care?"

A LARGER INCOME NEEDED.

"As to finances, it is the 'old, old story.' We need a larger income for current expenses. The mortgage is untouched since last year. The interest is a drain upon us. The whole sum we owe is only $1,200. The offer made a year ago of a handsome sum towards clearing this finally away is still open. Will not our friends, our old friends, who already have done and are doing for the cause, and our new friends, who have not yet realized that we need their aid, open hearts and hands, and enable us to celebrate the close of our twelfth year by entire freedom from debt? Greater ease as to our finances would mean more work done more easily."

CO-OPERATION ASKED FOR.

"As we ask for money, so equally earnestly do we ask for co-operation in other ways. A recent article in the Churchman, though grossly misleading in most respects, has a sad substratum of fact. There are—right among us in our towns and hamlets, still more in the outlying districts of Ulster County—those who form a degraded, practically heathen population. Every church, every individual laboring to uplift these or to assist respectable and industrious families in a time of special distress, will find the Home an indispensable centre for this work. Here orphaned or neglected children can find shelter, instruction, protection and Christian training."

CHILDREN CARED FOR.

Since it was opened, 400 children and four adult persons have been in our charge as inmates, cared for in illness and health as if one family; 143 have gone back to their own homes; 200 to families who have taken them with the idea of carrying on and completing the work begun in the Home. In addition to all this, there are countless opportunities growing out of the more immediate duties of the Managers for friendly, helpful association with many other persons needing aid or encouragement."

WORTHY OF TRUST.

"And now, as we close this twelfth report, we appeal to you to ask whether this work is not needed, whether it has not helped many to a better life? Some who came to us in childhood and have entered manhood and womanhood can testify that this is so. Many a discouraged parent, left struggling with little ones in poverty and sickness, can say that the Home has given entire household consciousness of sympathy and an upward impetus. But those behind the scenes, public officials who best know the awful risks and pollutions surrounding neglected children—they know what this work is doing. The Home has been worthy of trust so far. Trust it more. Entrust to those who are carrying it on, a larger portion of the means you have, be they much or little. And you will be glad, some day, that your means, perhaps your self-denial, have widened and deepened this power to seek and save."

"MARY ISABELLA FORSYTH, President."

A RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

THE 120TH REGIMENT MONUMENT.

A Prospective Visit of Veterans to the Battle Field at Gettysburg.

While the members of the Executive Committee of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regimental Union were in session, recently, in Kingston, they talked over the prospective visit of veterans to the Gettysburg battlefield, to dedicate a monument, to be erected on that field, to the memory of the One Hundred and Twentieth Regiment. It was stated that the monument would be taken to Gettysburg June 1, and placed in position. The day upon which the members of the Regiment will visit the field has not been determined.

TO READ A PAPER.

During the past three days several Rondout men have received alleged White Cap notices "to change their mode of living or suffer severe punishment." One man was given "two weeks longer to visit bar-rooms and get intoxicated," but after that length of time he "must keep away from such places and wear a blue ribbon." Another man has been cautioned to "get rid of his housekeeper."

Travel Heavy on the West Shore Stations Along Hudson River Connecting Railroads.

The new snow plow of the New York, Central and Hudson River Railroad weighs 70,000 pounds. It can make 30 miles an hour in a heavy drift.

The contract has been let to build six station houses along the Hudson Connecting Railroad between Highland and Campbell Hall. They will be located at Centerville, Clintondale, Modena, Tin Brook, Beren, and at the junction of the Orange County Railroad. The station houses will cost from $1,500 to $2,000 each. A station at Wallkill will be built by the proprietors of the milk condensary to suit their own tastes and wants.

This forenoon warrants were issued by Recorder Hussey for the arrest of women named Susan Frank and Ida Hisman, of Rondout, for disorderly conduct. The Frank woman is charged with cutting a woman named Jacklyn with a lamp and the Hisman woman with breaking the panels of a door of a Mrs. Elmendorf.

Men named Charles Wilson, Eugene Williams, John Farrell and Frank White proved to be "four of a kind" in Recorder's Court this afternoon. They were each sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County Jail for stealing a ride on a West Shore Railroad train.

Sporting.

A dispatch to THE FREEMAN from San Francisco says: Jacob Gaudauer and William O'Connor have signed articles for a three-mile scull race in San Francisco Bay on March 3.

THIS CITY'S PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The Regular Weekly Rehearsals Resumed Last Evening—the Music Rendered.

The members of the Kingston Philharmonic Society resumed their regular weekly rehearsals last night at the City Hall, under the leadership of Professor George F. Hulslander, of Boston, who has been engaged to conduct the rehearsals of the Society as heretofore, until the close of the year. There was a fair attendance of members, and all seemed pleased to get to work again.

The Conductor spoke in high terms of the work at the late festival. He said Carl Zerrahn, who was now conceded to be the best oratorio Conductor in this country, had frequently spoken to him since the festival regarding its success. Zerrahn, he said, assured him that he did not often have the good fortune of conducting a chorus where the voices blended so well and where the entire work of the singers was so creditable. Professor Hulslander, continuing, said it would pay to study carefully, and do good work. He believed that if the Society had not been entirely successful financially in this first instance, success would be certain to follow in the future even in that respect, if the singers kept together and continued to study and do good work.

After the singing of a number of choruses the Conductor said he was surprised at the great increase shown in the body of tone since the last rehearsal previous to the festival.

It was resolved by the Society that those who desired to join for the balance of the year could hand in their names with the initiation fee, and their application would be acted upon by the Committee.

Rehearsals will take place on Wednesday night of each week, until further notice.

Music at Theatres.

The following was printed in THE FREEMAN of Monday concerning a performance in Kingston Opera House, Saturday evening.

The waits between the acts were short, the applause was frequent and prolonged, and the music furnished by the orchestra was pleasing. The musicians, however, received "a hint" from the Stage Manager that they will be apt to remember for some time to come. It seems to be the custom here for orchestras to finish the "tune" being played regardless of signals from the Acting Stage Manager to "stop right there." At the end of the third act, on Saturday night, the musicians, in order not to spoil the artistic effect of the rendition of the selection they were playing, did not heed the order of the Stage Manager. Twice the order was repeated, and the third time it was given in a way more forcible than polite. Then the orchestra suddenly stopped. In New-York City theatres the musicians cease playing the moment the signal is given, though they generally regulate the time to give a number so that it will be finished when the curtain is ready to be raised. If leaders in Kingston City would at once start up the music when the curtain falls at the close of an act, instead of dilly-dallying for five minutes or more, the public would be better suited than it now is.

In relation thereto, a letter has been received from Professor Williams, leader of the orchestra. It seems that THE FREEMAN was misinformed, as to the flaring of the lights, hence the orchestra was in no way to blame. This correction is made freely, because it seems to be necessary. There has been no issue raised as to the quality of the music. It is conceded that it is excellent and has been frequently favorably mentioned. Mr. Williams' letter—it would make nearly a column—could not be printed to-day on account of a press of other matter.

CHAT ABOUT ICE AND "ICE MEN."

The Rondout Creek Boomed with Logs—A Large Sum Offered for Ice.

The Rondout Creek has been boomed with logs to keep the ice from floating into the Hudson River.

A firm of ice dealers have been offered $175,000 for 60,000 tons of ice stored in large houses at West Troy. The offer has not been accepted.

A dispatch from Troy to THE FREEMAN, to-day, stated: Arrangements have been made to cut ice from Round Lake, for the New-York market. Ice claims have been staked out on Lake Champlain, near Crown Point, for the probable demand from Hudson River ice men.

John J. Cooney, as a School Trustee of School District No. 15, Kingston, makes himself useful in a practical way. When there is a fall of snow, he gets out a team and men and scrapes the snow from the road for the distance of a mile, so the children can have a path to walk on.

"Five cents worth of peanuts, Mrs. O'Grady," said Snapem, Jr.

"There they are, my bye, fresh roasted."

"Do they have peanuts in Ireland, Mrs. O'Grady?"

"Illegant wans, bigger nor me thumb."

"Do peanuts grow in Ireland?"

"Faix an' they do. The lord that lived contagint to me fayther's house had a big grove of peanut trees, an' the ground under them trees was covered with peanuts from wan year's end to the other."

What a Lawyer Said.

During the examination of a witness in Surrogate's Court, Kingston, the other day, the examining lawyer was told by his opponent that he was "fishing behind the net." During the same trial one lawyer asked another lawyer to take the stand as a witness, as he wished to ask him a few questions. "I will," said the other promptly, "if you will give me my witness fee, 50 cents. I have been at work a long time in this case, and would like to get a little something out of it."

The Death Record.

The funeral of Patrick McGrath, of Rondout, was held this forenoon.

Captain Isaac Wood died in the town of Newburgh on Monday, aged 93. He won his title of Captain in the war of 1812.

At about 3 o'clock this morning Elizabeth Frey, youngest daughter of David Frey, of Rondout, died at her home on Spring-street. The deceased was a member of the Spring-Street Lutheran Church.

GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE.

THE MISERABLE MAIL SERVICE ALONG THE HUDSON RIVER.

No Attention Paid to Complaints of the Public—Political "Heelers" Substituted for Competent and Trustworthy Clerks—The Facts.

"It might be worse, but not much."

Scores of leading newspapers, Democratic and Republican, in this State are reprinting THE FREEMAN'S criticisms on the present poor mail service along the Hudson River and inland. The strictures of the Hudson Register—a dyed-in-the-wool Democratic organ—fully endorsing THE FREEMAN'S statements, is also being widely copied.

VOICING A GENERAL COMPLAINT.

Portions of the Register's statements are as follows:

"THE KINGSTON FREEMAN voices a complaint that is general when it declares that "the mail service along the Hudson River seems to be steadily growing from bad to worse." THE FREEMAN says that many of its exchanges now a days reach its office long after they are of interest. And a general shout of endorsement goes up from all the newspaper offices in the Hudson River Valley.—Several Exchanges."

"The complaint made by THE KINGSTON FREEMAN, and echoed by its contemporaries, is well founded, but the worst feature of this defective service is not stated. Six days in a week to newspapers along the line of the Hudson River Railroad, within 10 or 20 miles of the point of mailing, very seldom receive their papers with any degree of regularity. Sometimes they double the road twice before being delivered at their destination. For instance, newspaper packages from Hudson to Coxsackie and Stuyvesant frequently go through to Syracuse, and are delivered on the return trip. This is extremely annoying even for weekly papers, but it is intolerable when applied to dailies."

THE MAIL SERVICE IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

THE FREEMAN has in past years criticized the mail service, when occasion demanded it, without fear or favor of anybody. At one time the West Shore service under Superintendent Jackson's administration, was all at 'sixes and sevens.' He did not wait months to remedy the matter, nor did he put men in the mail cars whose only recommendation was that they were "political heelers." Every complaint made to Mr. Jackson was promptly investigated, and where a clerk was at fault he was either fined or removed.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH.

THE FREEMAN has no desire to misrepresent Doolittle or anyone else, but in common with other newspapers of standing it is desirous of having its mail handled with reasonable dispatch and care. Mistakes happen everywhere, but the gross carelessness exhibited at present is inexcusable.

Minor Notes Around Town.

Other local on page 3.

Conductor Henry Smith was in Rondout to-day.

The retail price of coal at the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's works here is the same as when winter first begun.

The Kingston City Drum Corps now numbers 29 members. The drummers are becoming proficient in handling the sticks and in drill. It is understood they will give a public parade soon.

Miss Margaret Connelly, of Port-Ewen, and Miss Lulu Cole, of Rondout, were present at the reception and ball given by Palestine Commandery in Metropolitan Opera House, New-York City, Tuesday night.

C. P. Carter, of Kingston, has devised a simple arrangement by means of which amateur photographers can use the flash light to greater advantage than heretofore. The flash light is caused by placing magnesium powder in a small reservoir over an alcohol lamp, so that it will ignite when the bulb of the rubber tube is pressed, blowing the powder into the flame. The important point is to make the flash the instant the bulb is pressed. A failure to do this will result in a poor picture.

The Carnival at Albany.

A dispatch from Albany to THE FREEMAN to-day stated: The mid-winter carnival will be held on Saturday of this week, though the project to erect an immense ice fort will be abandoned, as the ice cannot be secured. The programme has necessarily been shortened. The day will be devoted to skating, curling, bobbing, tobogganing and races, with a parade of the coasting clubs and tobogganers in the early evening followed by a skating carnival on the park lake. The festivities will close with a magnificent display of fireworks in the park, including a representation of the Falls of Niagara. The day will be made a total holiday and the State officers and members of the Legislature will be invited to participate.

About "Cold Cycles."

[From the Hudson Republican.]

A veteran ice cutter between here and Boston is reported as saying that the cold cycles change every five or seven years. The prediction or opinion has been more than verified within the past 30 years. That is to say in 1858 ice was not fit for cutting till the latter part of February, and the season lasted into March; then came the year 1863, five years intervening; then 1870, seven years intervening; then 1874, four years intervening; then 1881, seven years intervening, and now we have the seven years from 1881 to 1888.

On Albany-Avenue, Kingston.

A horseman says that owners of fast horses do not always realize the distance covered in speeding, on Albany-avenue, Kingston. The distance is half a mile. Some men drive up and down, at racing speed, for two hours, almost continuously. They would not think of driving their horses to Stone Ridge at top speed, and yet they cover much more than that distance in two hours on this avenue.

An Ellenville Opinion.

[From the Ellenville Journal.]

We have inadvertently omitted to note sooner the receipt of the "Carriers' Address" of the KINGSTON FREEMAN, a specimen of elegant printing, the title-page bearing a view on the Rondout Creek, showing the West Shore bridge.

A Mid-Winter Trip.

The propeller S. L. Crosby, of the Cornell Steamboat Company's Line, arrived in the Rondout Creek this forenoon, from New-York. It will remain here until spring.

A Poughkeepsie Opinion.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle says the boodlers should be tried in Dutchess County "where even-handed justice sits enthroned with one eye bandaged."

Horse Note.

Superintendent Bradfield, of the West Shore, who resides in this City, is the owner of a Kentucky bred horse. The blood of a famous racer it is said flows in its veins.

Boat Note.

The steam passenger yacht Charles A. Schultz has been taken off its route between Rondout and Eddyville, for the second time this winter.
